Vermont Woman Knew Her Death Was Certain; Baby Is Checked

St. Albans, Vt., Dec. 30 (AP)—Doctors today praised the courage of Mrs. Mary Decelle, 32, who didn't let the knowledge of sure death spoil the birth of her fifth child or the family Christmas observance.

Mrs. Decelle gave birth to an apparently healthy five pound, seven ounce boy last Saturday, then died of cancer less than 24 hours later.

The brave mother had pleaded with doctors to be permitted to leave Kerbs Memorial Hospital so she could spend the holiday with her family at home.

She promised to return the day after Christmas for a Caesarian section.

Doctors let her go home about 10 days before Christmas and on Dec. 26 she kept her promise and returned to the hospital to face the death she, her husband and her parents knew was inevitable.

One of Most Courageous

Dr. Walter Rath said last night "Mrs. Decelle was one of the most courageous women I've ever met in my life. She held the child long enough for us to take it and then she died."

Dr. Rath said permitting Mrs. Decelle to leave the hospital so she could be home for Christmas was "a big chance" because surgeons knew she was then living only from day to day.

"But," the doctor added, "the will, determination and courage of Mrs. Decelle prevailed."

The woman's 28-year-old husband, Morton, an electrical mechanic, said that although his wife knew she was suffering from cancer and all hope had been given

Milk Price Goes Up in City Jan. 1

Increase to Be One Cent, Producers Report in Statement

The price of milk delivered in Kingston and the surrounding area will increase one cent a quart effective January 1, it was announced today by the Milk Producers Association of Kingston.

The present price of Grade A milk delivered is 22 cents. Beginning Jan. 1, the price will be 23 cents a quart.

In making the announcement, the milk producers pointed out that this is the first increase in three years. In that time, they state, costs of feed, labor and machinery have advanced, and labor is hard to obtain "at any price."

As a result, the producers contend, "all possible operations must be performed by expensive machinery."

To meet the costs, the milk producers petitioned the milk distributors for an increase in price paid them for their milk. In order to grant this increase the milk distributor will increase the price of milk to the consumer one cent a quart.

All other cities in the area have already increased the price to the consumer, it was pointed out.

"As milk producers we solicit and heartily appreciate consumer cooperation in this situation," the milk producers' announcement said.

Eisenhower, Taft Meet in New York With Other Leaders

Attendance Mostly City Officials—Council to Take Action January 6

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk's budget hearing last night attracted only slight comment and an attendance of 12, most of whom were city officials.

The tentative 1953 budget of $1,571,953.09 sets a tax rate of $49.92, which is $1.84 under the 1952 rate.

Tenth Ward Alderman James K. Ryan questioned the mayor as to pension provisions, the difference between the police department bonus and that of other city employees, and a few other points.

Ryan asked why members of the police department were getting a bonus increase of $60 a year and other city employees were getting $120.

The budget provides a bonus increase from $240 to $360 a year for most city employees. The police department bonus is from $240 to $300. The bonus for the city treasurer, assessor and city clerk will be $120.

The budget notes that most city employees are not included in the cost-of-living bonus provision, and when Ryan asked why they were not, the mayor said their budget is made up by the laboratory board.

Query on Retirement

Ryan wanted to know if the cost-of-living bonuses are figured to the advantage of employees upon retirement, and the mayor said that although he had never had a pension board ruling on this point, he failed to see why a system to which both the city and employees contributed, would not figure in all money received by municipal employees.

The alderman asked why no budget provision was made, as had been suggested, to use the School No. 8 property for recreational purposes, and the mayor said he had been informed that the education board planned to use the grounds of the George Washington school for the purpose.

Sees 'Good Possibility'

The mayor also foresaw as "a good possibility" the use of part of the former Barmann Park area for playground purposes. An arrangement may be made with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for use of the property, he said.

Ryan and his predecessor, James J. Carroll, had offered resolutions in the Common Council asking that the school property be used for recreational purposes.

The only other alderman present was Martin W. Golden, ninth ward.

Oscar J. Lawatsch, of 10 Woodland avenue, expressed satisfaction for the provision of $5,000 to seal in the Sterling street dump.

Among the city officials present were Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, City Engineer Arthur J. Hallinan, and City Clerk Bernhard S. Kramer.

Rubinstein Asks U. S. Court Prevent His Deportation

McGranery Orders Him Taken Into Custody—Has Fought Issue 10 Years

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—Serge M. Rubinstein, Russian-born financier and convicted draft-dodger, today asked the U. S. district court to prevent his deportation.

His attorney filed a suit seeking an order barring Attorney General McGranery from taking Rubinstein into custody or deporting him.

McGranery yesterday ordered Rubinstein taken into custody by 4 p. m. (E.S.T.) today for deportation.

Rubinstein, 44, has been fighting deportation for nearly 10 years.

Successful in 1943

The wealthy New York was successful in contesting a 1943 deportation order based on charges he entered the United States in 1938 on a Portuguese passport obtained through fraud.

McGranery's new deportation order is based on Rubinstein's 1947 conviction of World War Two draft dodging. Rubinstein served two and one-half years in prison.

Rubinstein's complaint to U. S. district court, filed by Attorney Jack Wasserman of Washington, contends that no moral turpitude—grounds for deportation—was involved in the draft dodging conviction.

The complaint alleges also that the officer who presided at a deportation proceeding in October 1951, was improperly influenced by the views of his superiors, including the director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at Philadelphia.

Outside Record Claimed

It contends further that McGranery considered matters outside the record of the case in affirming the action of the Board of Immigration Appeals, which reviewed and upheld a deportation order issued last February.

Rubinstein said he has no passport and no right to enter any foreign country.

In such circumstances, aliens who are taken into custody for deportation are usually held at Ellis Island, N. Y., without bail.

Discussing Rubinstein's case last night, a Justice Department official said that normally he would be given a chance to select some country that would accept him.

One of the products of this process—in addition to a terrific explosion, brilliant light and radiation—is heat.

Frozen Outposts Near Chorwon Are Regained by Allies

Red Loudspeakers Boom Warning Jan. 4th Date of General Offensive

Seoul, Dec. 30 (AP)—Counter-attacking allied troops today regained frozen outposts near Chorwon on the western front. The posts were captured by a reinforced Chinese Communist company last night.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said about 30 Communists were killed and 100 wounded in the vicious Red attack by about 225 men. Allied defenders withdrew after an hour of fighting, but stormed back with reinforcements to recapture the lost positions.

Red loudspeakers on the central front last night blared a warning the Communists will launch a "general offensive" Jan. 4, the Pacific Stars and Stripes reported.

A woman broadcaster made the threat—similar to many aired earlier, none of which have been carried out.

Allied air activity was hampered by heavy clouds over most of North Korea. Marine and air force planes hit communist positions near the west and west-central front, but results were unobserved.

Snow, rain and sleet fell along the front today. Temperatures ranged from six to 13 degrees above zero.

Heck said Dewey's message to the lawmakers, which the governor will deliver in person Jan. 7, would be "pretty much a resume" of recommendations the governor has made in the past.

"Everything he recommended in the past, he re-recommends," Heck said.

The speaker said his tax prediction was based on his own surveys

Hiroshima Pilot Reports Spies Got to Secret Base

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—Col. Paul W. Tibbets, pilot of the plane which dropped the first atomic bomb on Japan, said today foreign agents penetrated the secret B-29 Base in Utah where the first A-bomb crew was trained.

Tibbets said agents of two foreign countries were arrested within the closely-guarded air base at Wendover, Utah, at a time when only a handful of scientists and high military men knew about the bomb.

He did not name the countries, nor say whether the agents had had an opportunity to learn any secrets. He said he did not know what became of the agents, that the Manhattan District took charge of them. The Manhattan District was the army code for the A-bomb development project.

There was no immediate opportunity to ask him about these details, and no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

Tibbets made the statement while chatting informally early today with air force officials and others following a private showing of a new motion picture based in large part on his experience.

Finletter Is Amazed

Among those in the small group with which he talked was secretary of the air force Finletter, who showed signs of incredulity. Finletter asked how it could have been possible for spies to get into one of the most carefully guarded spots in the United States.

Finletter did not become secretary of the air force until 1950, five years after the reported incident.

Tibbets replied Wendover was a busy bus and rail stop and the base itself was built on a fenced-off desert area on the Nevada-Utah border, a location difficult to screen completely even with highly trained military police on hand.

Based on Experiences

The new movie, "Above and Beyond," was shown to an invited audience at the small theatre in the headquarters of the Motion Picture Association of America. The film was based on Tibbets' difficulties—personal and professional—as commander of the 509th Composite Group set up specially to develop the B-29 and its crews as an A-bomb carrier and to stage the atomic bombings which preceded the end of the war with Japan in 1945.

In the picture, actor Robert Taylor, playing the role of Tibbets, grapples with the problem of keeping secret the true purpose of his organization.

Is Not Overdrawn

Tibbets said the security problem was in no way overdrawn in the film.

Tibbets piloted the B-29 "Enola Gay" which released the bomb on Hiroshima, on Aug. 6, 1945.

Tibbets, now 37, is stationed at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. His wife, Lucy, and two children and members of his crew all are portrayed in the film by professional actors.

The film, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, will be released generally late in January.

Says McGranery Was at Meeting at Which He Argued Data Must Be Released

Voting Was Factor Stand Taken Matter Was Bad Business Before Election

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—A Justice Department official testified today that a Federal Grand Jury report on its search for Communists in the United Nations was held up last fall partly because of fear "it would be used as a political football."

The testimony, to a House subcommittee investigating the department, came from Roy M. Cohn, special assistant to Attorney General McGranery. Cohn said his own arguments for releasing the report in October were overridden at a high-level conference presided over by McGranery.

Cohn said the decision favoring delay of the report was reached by Charles Murray, assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division, Deputy Attorney General Ross Malone, and Myles Lane, the U. S. attorney for the southern district of New York.

Cohn said someone—he couldn't remember who—brought up the suggestion that if the New York Grand Jury came out with its report at that time, the month before the presidential election, "it would be used as a political football and pulled apart by everybody."

Following Up Reports

The subcommittee is following up reports that the State and Justice Departments interfered with the grand jury after its hunt for U. S. citizens with Red leanings who were in the hire of the UN.

Cohn said he told his colleagues: "We have a job to do; we can't be affected one way or another by the election."

He said the election issue was one of several factors which caused the officials to direct Lane to try to delay the grand jury from making its report until its term expired in December.

The possibility that Secretary of State Acheson might be called as a witness arose yesterday.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) told reporters Acheson may be summoned tomorrow. The State Department has categorically denied attempting to interfere with the grand jury.

Meanwhile, four Justice Department officials—Roy Cohn, Myles Lane, Charles Murray and William Foley—were called (10 a. m.) to give their version of the case.

The committee, which has been investigating the Justice Department for almost a year, yesterday heard from five jurors: Joseph P. Kelly, Joseph A. Cahill, Charles J. Hanany, Corinne L. Geist and Max M. Zimmerman.

They told about calling approximately 100 U. S. citizens employed by the UN and questioning them about their loyalty or Communist affiliations.

Refuse to Answer

About half of the witnesses refused to answer their questions, the jurors reported, claiming the guarantee of the Fifth Amendment which says no one has to testify against himself in a criminal case.

The jury failed to indict anyone, the committee was told, but the jurors became "indignant" and, they testified, voted unanimously to report the conditions they found "so the U. S. public would be startled out of its lethargy."

The presentment filed by the jury said "an overwhelmingly large group of disloyal U. S. citizens" had infiltrated the UN staff. Since then, 27 have been fired as security risks. Sen. O'Connor (D-MD) said last night the State Department has information that 14 others are of doubtful loyalty.

Says They Cooperated

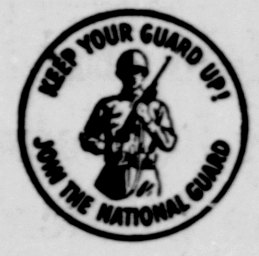

Kelly, the jury foreman, said that Cohn, a special assistant U. S. attorney, and Lane, the regular U. S. attorney, cooperated with the jury's probe. But on Dec. 2, when the jury was preparing to make its report to the court,

Eniwetok Blast Not Made By Transportable Bomb

By ELTON C. FAY
(AP Military Affairs Reporter)
Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—Nuclear scientists and ordnance designers presumably are trying to fashion an actual and practical weapon out of a hydrogen explosive device.

What blew up with an unprecedented bang at Eniwetok Proving Grounds a few weeks ago may have been the world's first big blast from the fusion process of atomic science. But there are reasons to believe it wasn't a transportable and handily packaged gadget that could be loaded into and dropped through an airplane bomb bay.

There is, in the lexicon of atomic weapons, a distinct difference between a device (the tool of experimenters) and a bomb (the finished product for use by an armed force).

The interval between the first experimental burst from a gadget mounted on top of a steel tower and production of an ordnance-perfected bomb may be substantially longer this time than in the instance of the original atomic bomb.

On July 16, 1945, the scientists and military men of the then-secret "Manhattan Project" produced the first atomic explosion from the top of a tower at Alamogordo, N. M. In less than a month—on Aug. 6—an atomic bomb was dropped from a specially fitted bomb bay of a B-29 Superfortress, exploding above the Japanese city of Hiroshima.

That was the world's first look at the atomic bomb. But the atomic era had dawned nearly three years earlier, in December, 1942, ten years ago this month, when scientists engineered the first successful atomic chain reaction.

As intricate as that old model to bomb and its trigger was, it didn't require the space, weight or still more complex mechanisms needed for hydrogen explosion. Among other things, a hydrogen explosive device must contain a really deep freeze refrigerator to maintain control of the process until the instant of burst. The weight and bulk of the assembled test gadget must be considered imposing.

There is the possibility that the weapons makers may decide it is not necessary to bring the H-bomb down to ordinary bomb bay size. They might just build one into a heavy bomber, equip the plane with remote controls for guidance from a "mother" plane and use the plane-bomb combination as a form of guided missile. The expense of the plane would be fractional to the expense of the bomb.

Nuclear physicists, abroad as well as in the United States, have known the theory of producing an explosion by fusing, not fissioning, the heavy weight hydrogen atoms almost as long as they have been aware of the standard fission process of the A-bomb.

However, they couldn't produce the fusion without a flash of heat measuring millions of degrees and occurring literally within the twinkling of an eye, something in the order of a millionth of a second.

The A-bomb, when it came, was the answer. In the chain reaction occurring when atoms are split, the total weight of two atoms of uranium origin created by the fission is slightly less than before the process. What is left, what no longer can be weighed because of this disappearance of some weight, is pure energy, the transmutation of mass to energy. One of the products of this process—in addition to a terrific explosion, brilliant light and radiation—is heat. Scientists guess that at the heart (Continued on Page 12, Col. 4)

Legislature Won't Boost Taxes, Conferee Reports

Albany, Dec. 30 (AP)—The speaker of the state Assembly predicts next year's state budget will be balanced without additional or increased taxes.

Republican Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady made the statement yesterday after attending a five-hour conference on Gov. Dewey's 1953 legislative program. Dewey had called in top state officials and legislative leaders.

Heck said Dewey's message to the lawmakers, which the governor will deliver in person Jan. 7, would be "pretty much a resume" of recommendations the governor has made in the past.

"Everything he recommended in the past, he re-recommends," Heck said.

The speaker said his tax prediction was based on his own surveys of departmental requests and other factors.

Heck said Dewey would again recommend a state-organized, twice-yearly inspection of motor vehicles. A group of upstate legislators blocked Dewey's move to have this enacted in 1952.

Dewey declined to talk with reporters after the conference. Heck made it clear that the governor and the Legislature had no intention of trying to solve New York city's financial troubles for the administration of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri.

Impellitteri, a Democrat, was elected mayor on the Experience party ticket.

Too many city officials are "always trying for some way of painlessly, harmlessly getting money from someone else," Heck said.

He added that Dewey and (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Says McGranery Was at Meeting at Which He Argued Data Must Be Released

Voting Was Factor

Stand Taken Matter Was Bad Business Before Election

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—A Justice Department official testified today that a Federal Grand Jury report on its search for Communists in the United Nations was held up last fall partly because of fear "it would be used as a political football."

The testimony, to a House subcommittee investigating the department, came from Roy M. Cohn, special assistant to Attorney General McGranery. Cohn said his own arguments for releasing the report in October were overridden at a high-level conference presided over by McGranery.

Cohn said the decision favoring delay of the report was reached by Charles Murray, assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division, Deputy Attorney General Ross Malone, and Myles Lane, the U. S. attorney for the southern district of New York.

Cohn said someone—he couldn't remember who—brought up the suggestion that if the New York Grand Jury came out with its report at that time, the month before the presidential election, "it would be used as a political football and pulled apart by everybody."

The subcommittee is following up reports that the State and Justice Departments interfered with the grand jury after its hunt for U. S. citizens with Red leanings who were in the hire of the UN.

The grand jury's report until its term expired in December.

The possibility that Secretary of State Acheson might be called as a witness arose yesterday.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) told reporters Acheson may be summoned to testify. The State Department has categorically denied attempting to interfere with the grand jury.

Meanwhile, four Justice Department officials—Roy Cohn, Myles Lane, Charles Murray and William Foley—were called (10 a. m.) to give their version of the case.

The committee, which has been investigating the Justice Department for almost a year, yesterday heard from five jurors: Joseph P. Kelly, Joseph A. Cahill, Charles J. Harsany, Corinne L. Geist and Max M. Zimmerman.

They told about calling approximately 100 U. S. citizens employed by the UN and questioning them about their loyalty or Communist affiliations.

Refuse to Answer
About half of the witnesses refused to answer their questions, the jurors reported, claiming the guarantee of the Fifth Amendment which says no one has to testify against himself in a criminal case.

The jury failed to indict anyone, the committee was told, but the jurors became "indignant" and, they testified, voted unanimously to report the conditions they found "so the U. S. public would be startled out of its lethargy."

The presentment filed by the jury said "an overwhelmingly large group of disloyal U. S. citizens" had infiltrated the UN staff. Since then, 27 have been fired as security risks. Sen. O'Connor (D-MD) said last night the State Department has information that 44 others are of doubtful loyalty.

Says They Cooperated
Kelly, the jury foreman, said that Cohn, a special assistant U. S. attorney, and Lane, the regular U. S. attorney, cooperated with the jury's probe. But on Dec. 2, when the jury was preparing to make its report to the court, (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

To Hold Christmas Party for Younger Set on Wednesday

The annual Christmas party for the youth of the city sponsored by the Kingston Recreation Department will be held tomorrow at the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway, beginning at 2 p. m.

Andrew J. Murphy, superintendent of the recreation department, said the age limit had been lowered from 15 to 12, necessitated by limited facilities at the center. He explained that when the party was first held some years ago it had been planned to accommodate approximately 100 children but that the number attending had increased steadily until in 1950 about 500 children were present.

Based on this figure the 1951 party was planned for 600 children with approximately 900 attending. Murphy stated, pointing out that the department had a real problem on its hands. He explained that the center is unable to accommodate this many children and that it had been decided to lower the age limit.

Murphy urged parents to send only those children under 12 years of age since those over 12 must be turned away.

Santa Claus will arrive at the center at approximately 6 p. m. to distribute gifts and "goodies." The party this year was made possible with the assistance of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Kingston Rotary Club, Elston's Sport Shop, Tommy Maines Sport Shop, State of New York National Bank, Ray Elmendorf, Zwick and Schwartz, Livingston and LeFevre, the F. B. Matthews Co., Anjay Sales, Inc., A. H. Gildersleeve and Son, Inc., and many individual Rotarians.

The youngsters were sent out with a flashlight and came back with eight gas caps. They told the police they had taken them from the cars and thrown them down the bank back of the city hall.

Easier for Landlords

Albany, Dec. 30.—The head of the rent commission predicted today that the 1953 Legislature would make it easier for landlords to increase rents. Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens of Brewster, commission chairman, disclosed that one of his personal recommendations would be complete decontrol of vacant properties. He said he felt that when a property became vacant it should go on the open market, subject to normal "bargaining" between the landlord and prospective tenants. Stephens said also that a new amendment might make it easier for landlords confronted with large increases in operating expenses to obtain higher rents.

FBI Chief Calls On Eisenhower

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover visited briefly with President-elect Eisenhower and then conferred with Herbert Brownell, Jr., who will be attorney general in the new administration.

Hoover was an unannounced visitor at the general's hotel Commodore headquarters. Eisenhower headquarters described it as a courtesy call, explaining that Hoover has been vacationing in Florida and had not had an opportunity to see Eisenhower since the election.

Brownell announced last month when he was named to the cabinet that he had asked Hoover to stay on as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Eisenhower, Taft

day's session with the GOP leaders.

Earlier, another Ohioan, Rep. Frances T. Bolton, called on Eisenhower and told reporters after-ward that it was "fortunate" that Taft had referred to the appointment of Martin Durkin as secretary of labor as "incredible."

Not Up to Standard

"I thought it (Taft's criticism) was unfortunate and not up to the standard of his own ability and greatness, although I think there was something on his side," she said. "There are always two sides to everything."

Mrs. Bolton predicted Taft would work with Durkin "very heartily and earnestly because what Taft cares about is the United States—he cares about that very deeply."

Senators, besides Taft, who were invited to confer with Eisenhower today were:

Frozen Outposts

battlefront was relatively quiet. Allied troops beat back about 40 Chinese who attacked Pinpoint, key height on Sniper Ridge near Kumbwa, in a 10-minute battle late yesterday.

The Communists hurled other light attacks on the south slope of Jane Russell Knob of Triangle Hill and on Rocky Point, jutting east of Sniper Ridge. Allies repulsed both jobs.

Communist big guns continued a steady pounding on the western front. The Eighth Army estimated the Reds fired nearly 5,000 rounds in the 24 hours ended at 6 p. m. yesterday.

Pommel Frontline

Allied warplanes, flying through heavy clouds and snow in some areas, concentrated on Communist front-line positions yesterday.

The Far East Air Force said 11 B-12 Superfort bombers from Okinawa last night dumped 110 tons of explosives on a Chinese Communist military headquarters at Taegang, near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Crewmen reported the 95-acre installation, including more than 100 buildings, was rocked by explosions and a huge fire.

Two slow-moving planes, believed to be Communist, flew over Seoul Tuesday night, touching off a 40-minute alert. The air force said the planes were not definitely identified, but they came from the north and disappeared in the same direction.

Presides at Meeting

Dublin, Ireland, Dec. 30 (AP)—Premier Eamon De Valera, who returned yesterday from prolonged treatment in The Netherlands for an eye ailment, presided over a cabinet meeting today.

Brush Fire Reported

Firemen were called today to check a brush fire on the Ups-and-Downs. An alarm was sounded from a box at West Chestnut and Pierpont street.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—Motors raced out in front of an advancing stock market today with Chrysler the star performer.

Chrysler on a gain of between 2 and 3 points hit a new high, and General Motors and Studebaker with fractional gains also touched new highs for the year.

The remainder of the list was up fractions to around a point. Losses were limited to fractions.

Volume was built up by many large blocks and attained a pace somewhat better than yesterday's 1,820,000 shares.

Going up along with motors were rails, steels, utilities, oils, coppers, and most aircrafts and some chemicals. Other major divisions were steady.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Texas Co., American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Lockheed, and Montgomery Ward.

International Nickel had a flurry of activity at higher prices. The company has asked the American government not to oppose a move to raise the price of nickel by 3 1/2 cents a pound.

German Woman Gets New Trial

Wuerzburg, Germany, Dec. 30 (AP)—A German woman convicted of attempted murder for betraying her anti-Nazi husband to the Gestapo will be retried here in January.

Mrs. Hilde Berthold, 50, was sentenced to 14 years in prison in February, 1950. She appealed the verdict and an Appellate Court acquitted her.

The Federal Supreme Court, in a ruling disclosed today, said the Appellate Court erred in freeing the woman and ordered a new trial.

After Mrs. Berthold's husband was seized by the Gestapo in 1945, he was convicted of high treason and sentenced to death. The sentence was suspended when he was ordered to the eastern front to fight in a "punishment unit" against the Russians. He survived the war.

The prosecution charged in the first trial that Mrs. Berthold betrayed her husband so she could live with her lover.

In acquitting Mrs. Berthold, the Appellate Court ruled the defendant could not be accused of attempted murder since her husband was convicted by a "legal" court.

The Supreme Court claimed that the Nazi judges who convicted Berthold had made "illegal" use of the special wartime criminal code.

Mission Wood Alarm Turned in by Supplies

The Freeman has received information that the first alarm for the Mission Wood Products Co., two-alarm fire early Monday morning was turned in by Frank Supplies of 36 Hurley avenue.

Supplies had just gone to a service station across the street from the plant, located at 397 Washington avenue, when he saw fire in the interior and rushed immediately to a firebox on the corner to turn it in. His wife and son were with him at the time.

Deputy Chief James Brett of the Kingston Fire Department, off duty at the time, happened to be passing and took charge at the scene.

Hearing Adjourns

Mrs. Jean Patricelli Wood of Schaghticoke, Rensselaer county, raised the question of jurisdiction.

Eugene H. Wood was killed in an accident between the truck he was driving and a private automobile at Farmus, N. J., on Sept. 30, 1952.

After his death, Mrs. Anna Hauck Wood of Saugerties applied for limited letters of administration for the purpose of bringing an action in the accident case. Ulster County Surrogate Sterley granted the limited letters on Oct. 8 to Anna Wood, the alleged widow.

Obtained Court Order

On Nov. 14, Jean Patricelli Wood of Schaghticoke asked for and obtained a show cause order to determine why the limited letters issued to Anna on Oct. 8 should not be revoked "upon the grounds that said Eugene H. Wood at the date of his death was not a resident of the county of Ulster but was a resident of the county of Rensselaer," and therefore the Surrogate Court of Ulster county had no jurisdiction in the matter. Jean's application contended she was the "mother and natural guardian of four children born as a result of marriage between Eugene Wood and herself."

J. Irving Chase and Swartz and Swartz of 297 River street, Troy, appear for Jean Wood, and Max Goldstein of 90 State street, Albany, appears for Anna Wood.

Anna Wood on Monday afternoon testified that she had received a $100 monthly allotment from the government during the time Eugene Wood was in the navy during the war and that she had received his discharge pay, and is now receiving Social Security benefits.

Went to Albany, They Say

Anna also testified that on two occasions—once in 1947 and again in 1948—she, in company with her mother, father and a sister, went to Jean's address on Colonie street, Albany, after she "heard that Gene was going with another woman."

Asked by her attorney what she said to Jean, Anna replied: "I told her to leave my husband alone."

The attorney then asked if Jean had told her she was married to Eugene Wood. Anna replied, "No."

Harry Hauck of Catskill, father of Anna Wood, was called to the stand and testified that he had accompanied his daughter on two occasions to Albany, had seen Jean, but did not converse with her.

Jean Patricelli Wood was recalled to the stand by her attorney and asked if she had ever seen Harry Hauck before. She replied she had not. She had earlier testified that she had never seen Anna Hauck before the current hearing in Surrogate's Court.

Anna Hauck Wood also testified that Eugene Wood is buried at Blue Mountain Cemetery, Saugerties, and that she, Anna Wood, had made the arrangements for the funeral.

Adjournment was taken until Jan. 6 at 10 a. m., at which time further witnesses will be called.

Truman Will Seek

the election. Dodge was not in Washington today.

Congress Can Make Changes

Congress can also make changes in the administration's budget.

The Truman administration source said defense spending this fiscal year will not exceed 47 to 48 billion dollars, instead of the presently estimated 51 billion, and that total government outgo will be around 75 billion, instead of 79 billion.

He said that in the new budget, Truman will place defense expenditures for fiscal 1954 at approximately $1 billion dollars, including money already voted by Congress, and will ask for new defense appropriations of about 41 billion.

These figures did not include atomic energy expenditures, or money for construction of bases and replacement of material losses in Korea.

Thus, Truman would be recommending defense spending in fiscal 1954 of approximately three to four billion dollars more than the source estimated it will run in the current fiscal year.

Truman would be asking for new defense appropriations five billion dollars less than the 46 billion of this year. The source said other appropriation requests for fiscal 1954 will be about three billion under appropriations this year.

Doctors said that although the newborn child appears "strong and vigorous," tests are being made to determine if he suffered any ill-effects from his mother's cancerous condition.

Also at the Decelle home for Christmas were Mrs. Decelle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowder of Mayodon, N. C., and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stewart of Bradford, Conn.

Decelle said he met his wife while serving in the army. They were married in Greensboro, N. C., June, 1945.

Accused of stabbing Robert Daniels, 65, in the chest, Williams was arraigned before Justice of the Peace William J. Upright. He waived examination and was ordered held for action of the grand jury.

State police said Daniels was treated by Dr. Carl F. Meekins of Highland, then was taken to Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie. His condition was apparently not serious, troopers said, although examination was to be made to find out whether his lung may have been punctured.

The alleged assault took place on a farm at Clintondale, troopers said. Both men were employed as laborers.

To Hold Christmas Party for Younger Set on Wednesday

The annual Christmas party for the youth of the city sponsored by the Kingston Recreation Department will be held tomorrow at the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway, beginning at 2 p. m.

Andrew J. Murphy, superintendent of the recreation department, said the age limit had been lowered from 15 to 12, necessitated by limited facilities at the center. He explained that when the party was first held some years ago it had been planned to accommodate approximately 100 children but that the number attending had increased steadily until in 1950 about 500 children were present.

Based on this figure the 1951 party was planned for 600 children with approximately 900 attending. Murphy stated, pointing out that the department had a real problem on its hands. He explained that the center is unable to accommodate this many children and that it had been decided to lower the age limit.

Murphy urged parents to send only those children under 12 years of age since those over 12 must be turned away.

Santa Claus will arrive at the center at approximately 6 p. m. to distribute gifts and "goodies." The party this year was made possible with the assistance of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Kingston Rotary Club, Elston's Sport Shop, Tommy Maines Sport Shop, State of New York National Bank, Ray Elmendorf, Zwick and Schwartz, Livingston and LeFevre, the F. B. Matthews Co., Anjay Sales, Inc., A. H. Gildersleeve and Son, Inc., and many individual Rotarians.

Easier for Landlords

Albany, Dec. 30.—The head of the rent commission predicted today that the 1953 Legislature would make it easier for landlords to increase rents. Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens of Brewster, commission chairman, disclosed that one of his personal recommendations would be complete decontrol of vacant properties. He said he felt that when a property became vacant it should go on the open market, subject to normal "bartering" between the landlord and prospective tenants. Stephens said that a new amendment might make it easier for landlords confronted with large increases in operating expenses to obtain higher rents.

Earlier, another Ohioan, Rep. Francis T. Bolton, called on Eisenhower and told reporters afterward that it was "unfortunate" that Taft had referred to the appointment of Martin Durkin as secretary of labor as "incredible."

"I thought it (Taft's criticism) was unfortunate and not up to the standard of his own ability and greatness, although I think there was something on his side," she said. "There are always two sides to everything."

Mrs. Bolton predicted Taft would work with Durkin "very heartily and earnestly because what Taft cares about is the United States—he cares about that very deeply."

Senators, besides Taft, who were expected to confer with Eisenhower today were:

Frozen Outposts

battlefront was relatively quiet. Allied troops beat back about 40 Chinese who attacked Pinpoint, key height on Sniper Ridge near Kumhuw, in a 10-minute battle late yesterday.

The Communists hauled other light attacks on the south slope of Jane Russell Knot of Triangle Hill and on Red Point, hitting east of Sniper Ridge. Allies repulsed both jobs.

Communist big guns continued a steady pounding on the western front. The Eighth Army estimated the Reds fired nearly 5,000 rounds in the 24 hours ended at 6 p. m. yesterday.

Pommel Frontline
Allied warplanes, flying through heavy clouds and snow in some areas, concentrated on Communist front-line positions yesterday.

The Far East Air Force said 11 B-12 Superfort bombers from Okinawa last night dumped 110 tons of explosives on a Chinese Communist military headquarters at Taegam, near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Crewmen reported the 95-acre installation, including more than 100 buildings, was rocked by explosions and a huge fire.

Two slow-moving planes, believed to be Communist, flew over Seoul Tuesday night, touching off a 40-minute alert. The air force said the planes were not definitely identified, but they came from the north and disappeared in the same direction.

The remainder of the list was up on fractions to a point. Losses were limited to fractions.

Volume was built up by many large blocks and attained a pace somewhat better than yesterday's 1,820,000 shares.

Going up along with motors were rails, steels, utilities, oils, coppers, and most aircraft and some chemicals. Other major divisions were steady.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Texas Co., American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Lockheed, and Montgomery Ward.

International Nickel had a flurry of activity at higher prices. The company has asked the American government not to oppose a move to raise the price of nickel by 3 1/2 cents a pound.

German Woman Gets New Trial

Wuerzburg, Germany, Dec. 30 (AP)—A German woman convicted of attempted murder for betraying her anti-Nazi husband to the Gestapo will be retried here in January.

Mrs. Hilde Berthold, 50, was sentenced to 14 years in prison in February, 1950. She appealed the verdict and an Appellate Court acquitted her.

The Federal Supreme Court, in a ruling disclosed today, said the Appellate Court erred in freeing the woman and ordered a new trial.

After Mrs. Berthold's husband was seized by the Gestapo in 1945, he was convicted of high treason and sentenced to death. The sentence was suspended when he was ordered to the eastern front to fight in a "punishment unit" against the Russians. He survived the war.

The prosecution charged in the first trial that Mrs. Berthold betrayed her husband so she could live with her lover.

In acquitting Mrs. Berthold, the Appellate Court ruled the defendant could not be accused of attempted murder since her husband was convicted by a "legal" court.

The Supreme Court claimed that the Nazi judges who convicted Berthold had made "illegal use of the special wartime criminal code."

Truman Will Seek

the election. Dodge was not in Washington today.

Congress Can Make Changes

Congress can also make changes in the administration's budget.

The Truman administration source said defense spending this fiscal year will not exceed 47 to 48 billion dollars, instead of the presently estimated 51 billion, and that total government outgo will be around 75 billion, instead of 79 billion.

He said that in the new budget, Truman will place defense expenditures for fiscal 1954 at approximately 51 billion dollars, including money already voted by Congress, and will ask for new defense appropriations of about 41 billion.

These figures did not include atomic energy expenditures, or money for construction of bases and replacement of material losses in Korea.

Thus, Truman would be recommending defense spending in fiscal 1954 of approximately three to four billion dollars more than the source estimated it will run in the current fiscal year.

Truman would be asking for new defense appropriations five billion dollars less than the 46 billion of this year. The source said other appropriation requests for fiscal 1954 will be about three billion under appropriations this year.

State and Truckers Reach Alternative On Truck Weights

An alternative method of determining maximum gross weight of tank trucks for 1953 registration purposes has been announced by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles following a number of conferences with interested groups, including one from Kingston.

Arrangements for the interview between James Macduff, state motor vehicle commissioner, and a local delegation were made by Senator Arthur H. Wicks. The interview was held in Albany on Tuesday.

The local group included Harry Rigby, Jr., president of the Hudson Valley Fuel Oil Dealers Association; Edward Phelan, president of the Ulster County Fuel Dealers Association; Amos Newcombe, John Schwalbach and W. L. Rider. They discussed what they termed the "inequities" in the new truck registration regulations which became effective Nov. 1.

Owners Have Choice
The new regulation issued by Commissioner Macduff gives owners of tank trucks and tank trailers the choice of complying with weight schedules in the new motor vehicle registration regulations, or submitting a special weight certificate showing actual, fully loaded weight as certified by an officially-designated weighmaster.

Macduff said in announcing the new regulation that tank vehicles presented a special problem because their construction limited their use to special types of loads.

The new alternative applies to trucks and trailers "constructed solely for the purpose of transporting fuel oil, gasoline, kerosene, liquid sugar, molasses, milk or similar liquid products."

Forms Available
Special weight certificate forms (MV 100-T) for tank vehicles are obtainable at all Motor Vehicle Bureau issuing offices.

The 1952 truck and trailer registrations, as well as those of passenger vehicles, expire at midnight, Feb. 2, 1953.

Cabinet Will Meet

Colombo, Ceylon, Dec. 30 (AP)—Ceylon's cabinet meets tomorrow to consider ratification of a long-term trade pact with Communist China and an offer to sell this country 300,000 tons of wheat and flour annually. The offer was received by the Ceylonese trade mission which went to Peking to negotiate with the Chinese Reds.

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 30 (AP)—The newspaper Al Misri said today Egypt had agreed to export 500 tons of cotton to Communist China. Government authorities would not confirm or deny the report.

Port Ewen, Dec. 30—Troop 26, Boy Scouts of America, will not meet tonight as scheduled, it has been announced.

Truckers Obtain Show Cause Order

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 30 (AP)—The state must show cause why it should not be restrained from collecting 1953 truck registration fees based on a new system of state-provided weight charts.

Two New York city trucking firms obtained the show-cause order yesterday from Justice Donald S. Taylor of State Supreme Court.

Taylor directed the motor vehicle commissioner, James Macduff, to show why he should not be restrained from collecting or attempting to collect fees under the new regulations.

The order is returnable Jan. 9 in Supreme Court at Albany. In the meantime, the state can continue collecting the fees. The truckers, G. T. McGovern Trucking Company and Eastern Van Lines, did not ask an immediate stay.

Jan. 31 Is Deadline

The deadline for obtaining 1953 truck licenses is Jan. 31. The new regulations call for license fees to be determined by the gross weight of each type of truck as specified on the charts. Previously, truckers had supplied their own gross weight figures.

These, the state contended, often were too low. The truck operators maintain that the charts are not fair, and that under the new system, some truckers pay more than their share.

Truck registration cost 50 cents per hundred pounds of gross weight. The rate has not been changed.

Gov. Dewey has recommended that farmers delay obtaining their new truck registrations until the Legislature has an opportunity to act on proposals to lessen farm truck fees.

More men than women commit suicide.

Kaufman Is Dropped From TV Program

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—Playwright George S. Kaufman has been dropped from the CBS television program, "This is Show Business," because he remarked: "Let's make this one program on which no one sings 'Silent Night'."

He made this remark on the Dec. 21 show. Kaufman's departure from the program was disclosed yesterday. It was said that several hundred letters and phone calls had been received by the network and the show's sponsor, The American Tobacco Co., saying the remark was "anti-religious" and in questionable taste.

Some letters, it was reported, threatened a boycott of the sponsor's products if Kaufman remained on the show. "This was not a witty or an anti-religious remark," Kaufman said. "I was merely out against the use and over-use of this Christmas carol in connection with the sale of commercial products."

The program—scheduled to be replaced by another three weeks hence after being on the air since late 1949—features various performers plus comments of a panel of theatrical personalities.

Chief Magistrate Hits Appointment

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has made Louis Fusco, Jr., a magistrate despite the protest of Chief City Magistrate John M. Murtagh.

Even before the mayor officially announced the appointment yesterday, Murtagh had described it as a "wedding present" and a "bad appointment."

Fusco is the husband of the former Eva Guisetti, secretary to Frank Sampson, the mayor's administrative assistant and patronage dispenser.

As city deputy director of labor relations, Fusco earned $10,500 a year. He will get $14,000 annually as magistrate.

Denies Sampson Part

Impellitteri denied Sampson had recommended Fusco's appointment and said Fusco had the approval of the Bar Association. Fusco was Bronx campaign manager when the mayor ran for his present post in 1950.

The mayor said Murtagh's statement was "in bad taste if not impertinent." Sampson also issued a statement blasting Murtagh, and said the chief magistrate was motivated by Sampson's refusal to recommend him for a higher court job.

Fusco, whose term runs to June 18, 1954, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of retiring Magistrate Joseph M. Levine, who reaches the statutory age limit of 70 tomorrow.

Legislature Won't

GOP chieftains felt the city administration had "quite a nerve to come to the state to try to get the state to pull them out of a hole."

"There are too many candidates for mayor on the (city) Board of Estimate," Heck commented. The conferees did review the state's overall fiscal situation.

The budget for the fiscal year starting April 1 is expected to be slightly higher than the present figure of $1,109,000,000, but Dewey presumably plans to finance spending through revenue increases under the present tax program.

Heck revealed that Dewey would not call for a system of permanent personal registration of voters. The governor has not taken a stand on the controversial issue in the past.

The speaker also said he had not seen anything in Dewey's message on the proposal by the Board of Regents for a state-operated system of educational, non-profit television stations.

The plan, on which public hearings are scheduled next month, is expected to develop a major controversy in the new Legislature.

Those at yesterday's session, in addition to Heck, were:

Senator Walter J. Mahoney, chairman of the Finance Committee, Senate leader Arthur H. Wicks, Assembly majority leader Lee B. Mailler, Assemblyman William MacKenzie, who will become chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; Assemblyman D. Malloy Stephens, present Ways and Means chairman, who is retiring; Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, Atty.-Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein, Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern, William L. Pfeiffer, GOP state chairman; George M. Shapiro, Dewey's counsel; Budget Director T. Norman Hurd, and R. Burdell Bixby, Dewey's secretary.

In the early days of Rome the first of the year fell on Dec. 21 (the winter solstice).

Fish, Which Should Have Died 50 Million Years Ago, Is Caught at South Africa

Durban, South Africa, Dec. 30 (AP)—A South African fish expert has announced "one of the most important discoveries made in science"—a good specimen of a type of fish that scientists once believed had died out at least 50 million years ago.

Prof. J. B. Smith, a noted ichthyologist, arrived here last night by plane from a tiny islet in the French-owned Camoro group between Madagascar and the East African mainland with a carefully-guarded crate which he said contained a coelacanth. He had made a 3,000-mile dash to collect the fish—caught more than a week ago by an African fisherman—before it decomposed.

First of Bony Fish
The coelacanth—which bears the scientific name of latimeria chalumnae—were the first family of bony fish. They are believed to have evolved between 200 and 350 million years ago and until recently were known to man only by fossils.

Earlier fish had skeletons composed of something like cartilage, as sharks do today. The coelacanth is believed to have been an important link in the theory of the evolution of sea vertebrates (creatures having bony structure) into land vertebrates—including man.

Smith's specimen, the second caught in African waters since 1938, represented the end of a 14-year search by the expert for one in a good state of preservation. The first specimen, also identified by Smith, was so badly decomposed by the time he got it that anatomical study was difficult.

Most Important, He Says

A plane furnished by South Africa's Prime Minister Daniel J. Malan took Smith to the Camoros to collect the fish. On his return here he told a crowd who met him at the airport:

"Yes, it is a Coelacanth—one of

IKE STRONGER THAN PARTY

Except to the experts, there's usually nothing more deadly than yesterday's election statistics. The official results of the November 4 presidential vote are, however, a little livelier reading.

They bring out better than did the incomplete, unofficial returns the astonishing nature of General Eisenhower's victory over Governor Stevenson.

For one thing, they demonstrate dramatically the proportions of the general's impact upon the normally Democratic South. Ike, of course, won Florida, Texas, Tennessee and Virginia, and also captured the border states of Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma. He missed taking Kentucky by 700 votes and lost South Carolina by just 15,000.

But the total vote in 16 southern and border states is perhaps the best proof of what happened. Stevenson polled 7,129,000 votes in these 16, but Eisenhower was only 134,000 behind with 6,995,000.

Of the nine states Ike lost in this group, six gave him more than 40 per cent of their vote. His vote in Georgia, 30 per cent, was the lowest he got in the South and in the country. His 35 per cent in Alabama and 39 per cent in Mississippi were his only other national showings below 40.

Having run neck and neck in his opponent's strongest territory, Ike could occasion no surprise by the general magnitude of his performance. For instance, he won 29 states with a vote of 55 per cent or better, and 14 of these 29 gave him more than 60 per cent.

Ike's final margins in the big population states were staggering—848,000 in New York, 700,000 in California, 500,000 in Ohio, 443,000 in Illinois. In much smaller states like Iowa and Wisconsin he buried Stevenson by more than 350,000 votes.

Pennsylvania was a striking exception. There Ike scored by a relatively modest 270,000, not in pace with his other showings. A prime reason: a strong new Democratic organization in Philadelphia, which gave Stevenson a 160,000-vote edge.

In achieving this tremendous sweep, Ike left his Republican running mates far behind. All the comparative figures aren't in yet, but in 37 states Ike ran ahead of the highest state or national Republican candidates by a net of 2,561,000 votes. The margin may be greater when all totals are added. The general outdistanced his slate-mates in all but six of these 37 states.

This is the firm evidence that Eisenhower was stronger than his party, and assertions to the contrary, will be difficult to support.

Ike did not get a plurality as large as rung up by President Harding, Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt's record of 11,072,014 was far ahead of Eisenhower's 6,616,233 over Stevenson. But the general's total vote of 33,927,549 bested Roosevelt's highest vote by 6,175,952 and surpassed Wendell Willkie's record Republican showing by 11,622,794.

Eisenhower has established high-water marks that may go untouched for years. How he did it will be conversational fodder among Americans for months.

Rich iron deposits have been found in Egypt, a country whose wealth heretofore has been almost exclusively agricultural. The openings for work which the mines will create may be the solution for Egypt's great poverty, which is the main cause of its anti-European attitude. Iron may transform Egypt, just as the recent finds of oil bid fair to do to desert Arabia.

South Dakota does not think that 18-year-olds should be entrusted with the vote. By the narrow margin of 685 votes the electors rejected a constitutional amendment extending the franchise to those 18 and over, but under 21. This leaves Georgia the only state which is thus liable to its sons who are old enough to be killed in their country's service.

After looking at some of the neckties that are offered for sale this Christmas we now understand how some modern artists make a

FERRER ON ROBESON

Paul Robeson is an artist of merit who has become so absorbed by Soviet Russia that he no longer can be regarded as American in any other category but nominal citizenship. He is at this moment the most vehement protagonist of Soviet Russia in this country and his services have been acknowledged by Joe Stalin.

Indignation against Robeson is usually expressed by patriotic Americans who have never been tempted by so-called left-wingism. Yet, no one has ever denounced Paul Robeson with such accurate pin-pointing of his unforgivable sins against his native land as Jose Ferrer, actor, who has also been attacked for some of his associations.

Ferrer's language is important because he expresses the problem of the artist who insists on freedom of expression but rejects treason. This is what Ferrer said about Robeson:

"Any American who accepts an award from the Soviet Union today does a tremendous disservice, not only to his country, but to the cause of peace throughout the world. It seems to me to be very clear that up to now the Soviet Union has discredited itself as to believability of intention and honesty of purpose."

"I have always felt deeply about the minority groups and their problems. In the case of Paul Robeson, his action in accepting Stalin's so-called 'peace prize' seems to me to be particularly reprehensible because he is doing almost irreparable harm to his own race, and grave injury to the cause of all Negroes. He pretends to be their spokesman, and he is not. I do not believe that Paul Robeson has anything fundamentally in common with Ralph Bunche, Marian Anderson, Joe Louis, Dorothy Maynor, Jackie Robinson, and other Negroes who are winning the uphill battle for Negro rights."

"Nor does he have very much in common with the Negro soldiers in Korea, who are helping to fight the battle for freedom against Communist aggression and dictatorship."

"Anyone who is in the arts must have freedom of expression. As an artist I insist on this privilege for myself and for all others. In its attempt to control artistic and creative expression, Communism is indistinguishable from Fascism or any other form of dictatorship. This is all the more reason to deplore the course which Paul Robeson has chosen."

The acknowledgment of the undeniable truth that "Communism is indistinguishable from Fascism" is emotionally difficult for many of those who in the hey-day of Hitlerism were willing to accept Stalin as an alternative. Their error was that they really saw the evil. It is impossible to say that Stalin is less a devil than Hitler, for both were bred by the same Hegelian sire and only differed in the method of achieving an identical end.

Even in the matter of anti-Semitism, Stalin reaches the same position as Hitler did and for the same ends, namely, that any independence of thought or action is repugnant to him. To the very few Negroes who visit his country, Stalin can well present a facade of equality because he has no Negro population in his country, but he does have Jews in sufficient number to require him to reach a conclusion about them and his conclusion is the same as Hitler's was.

Jose Ferrer, therefore, has hit the nail on the head when he establishes the truth that when Robeson serves Stalin, he betrays not only the United States but the Negroes as well. It is a too usual, even though unjust, human trait to generalize from the particular. A handful of Negroes are Communists; therefore, the illogical—and logic is perhaps the most difficult and unused of mental exercises—conclude that all, or most, or a great many Negroes are Communists.

Robeson, in particular, stands out like a sore thumb because he is so prominent and active and such a great artist. When he sings "Ole Man River" or "Water Boy," one almost forgets that he is a servant of Stalin's power. It is a pity because Robeson might have been of great service to his race and to this country. Instead, he is absorbed by most Americans should be.

Jose Ferrer has served his country well by making the issue clear-cut and understandable. It is not the Negro in Robeson that brings him opprobrium in his native land; it is his treachery to its ideals and institutions. (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

EMOTIONS AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

As heart and blood-vessel disease is now the most frequent cause of death, not excepting cancer, research workers all over the world are now seeking a drug or drugs to reduce high blood pressure, which is the underlying cause of most cases of heart and blood-vessel disease.

The search for a drug to reduce "permanently" high blood pressure has not been successful, but now that it is known that emotional disturbances raise the blood pressure, the sale of "quieting" drugs (sedatives) outnumbers the sale of purgatives.

In practically all cases of heart and blood-vessel disease, the emphasis is placed on rest. Not that the patient should remain in bed all the time but that he should be up and around a part of the time to keep up his spirits (morale) by being a part of the family life and not left to himself so much that he has too much time to be thinking inwardly.

In fact one of the latest forms of treatment from an authoritative source is the "arm chair" treatment in which the patient spends his time in an armchair but gets up occasionally to go to the commode or to walk slowly about the room. This not only keeps up his spirits but helps all the body processes—the circulation of the blood, aids digestion, prevents constipation.

Many may think that overwork, too much tobacco or alcohol, heredity, are the chief causes of high blood pressure, and these are among the many causes, but physicians today are prescribing these quieting drugs not to keep the patient from doing physical work, but to quiet or prevent emotional disturbances. Emotional disturbances can raise the blood pressure 40 to 60 points (M.M.).

In his book, "Control High Blood Pressure and Live Longer," Dr. Herman Pomeranz, visiting physician, Manhattan General Hospital, New York City, states: "Anger, fear, excitement, worry, general nervousness or other emotional influences greatly affect blood pressure. Such feelings, whether expressed or repressed, may cause a sudden rise in pressure. These effects are brought about by increased heart action and changes in the state of the blood-vessels through impulses playing upon the heart and brain."

Another factor is that in the early history of man, with dangers all about him, Nature caused the adrenal glands, one above each kidney, to pour adrenal juice into the blood to strengthen the heart and raise his blood pressure to better enable him to fight or fly. This, of course, raised the blood pressure till danger was past. Now, everyday emotional disturbances stretch the blood-vessels too much and too often, so that some of the elastic tissue of blood-vessels is lost, they become hardened, and blood pressure remains high.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — When General Eisenhower first asked George Humphrey, head of the giant M. A. Hanna Holding Corporation, to become secretary of the treasury, Humphrey told him that he wouldn't be able to take the job for more than two years.

"Well, that's all right," replied Eisenhower, "but you wouldn't leave me in the middle of a crisis, would you?"

"No," laughed Humphrey, "I would leave before the crisis arrived."

"If you're that smart," concluded Eisenhower, "I certainly want you on my team."

Hot Maine Potato
The Ike administration has had a hot potato dumped in their lap in the form of conrith, humble Owen Brewster, the defeated GOP Senator from Maine, one-time vigorous opponent of Eisenhower.

Brewster, who has lived in the nation's capital for something like a quarter of a century, now doesn't want to go back to Maine. He wants to stay here and be part of the Ike administration. Specifically he wants to be assistant secretary of state.

To this end, the retiring senator from Maine has been on the phone getting the support of old friends, and has sent word to the man who defeated him, Senator-elect Fred Payne, that he, Brewster, would retire from the Senate on Dec. 31, thus giving Payne a chance to step in and get seniority ahead of other new senators—provided Payne, in turn, would endorse him to be assistant secretary of state.

Faced with this supplication from the retiring senator from Maine, the Brownell boys—who are handling Ike's jobs—dumped the hot potato into the senate's lap. In brief they told Brewster to get the support of Senator Margaret Chase Smith, whom he once tried to defeat, and Payne, who defeated him.

Durkin Was Different
This procedure was exactly the opposite of what Brownell did in the appointment of Martin Durkin

as secretary of labor. In that case, not only was Taft not consulted, but Everett Dirksen, Republican senator from Illinois, from which state Durkin comes, was not consulted.

Reason No. 1 for dumping the hot potato is that Brewster has become known as the Senate spokesman of Dictator Franco; also the spokesman of Pan American Airways; and a Senate probe actually revealed that he had been mixed up in tapping the telephone wires of Howard Hughes of Trans World Airlines on behalf of competing Pan American Airways.

Reason No. 2 for being Coy about Brewster is that he was vigorously for Taft, and is credited with attempting to smear Eisenhower as "Stalin's stooge."

This smear was first printed by the partisan Republicans of California. Later at a meeting at the home of Senator Brewster, Ralph Masterson, chairman of Maine's Republican State Committee, proposed that the smear be mailed throughout the state, with GOP state funds used for mailing it.

As a result Senator Margaret Smith went on a state-wide radio network to denounce the "Stalin's stooge" smear and vigorously defended Eisenhower.

Later also, Brewster made a statement that he knew nothing about the smear; claimed he was out of the room when Masterson, during the meeting in Brewster's home, proposed that it be distributed.

All of which leads Eisenhower advisers to figure that though the state of Maine raises a lot of potatoes, this is the hottest one ever dumped in their laps.

Washington Pipeline

V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian ambassador to the UN, has been interviewed by expert newsmen, has participated in vital UN debates. But it took two college students to make headlines with his real views on the U. S. and Korea. Helen Jean Rogers, a graduate of Catholic University and Elmer Paul Brock of La Salle College, were the two who quizzed Menon so thoroughly on Ruth Hagy's junior press conference TV program that U. S. Ambassador Chester Bowles protested to the Indian Government against Menon's remarks. He stated that the United States was sabotaging the Korean peace.... Menon had hoped to succeed Nehru as prime minister of India, but this should puncture that ambition.... The Czechoslovak legation has just bought twelve short-wave radio sets at $480 apiece. They can tune in on Prague easily.... The lobbyists are dusting off their pocketbooks and preparing to wine and dine congressmen again. Farsighted Charlie Holman, champion of the cow, has even picked the advance date of May 7 for a dinner for congressmen aimed at curbing the oleo producers.

Argentina Fascism
Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont came back from a trip to Argentina recently with the impression that that country was becoming "Nazified."

Flanders was in the Argentine Legislature when President Peron read his 5-year-plan, which in name at least, was copied after Moscow's and which the senator said "promised everything that the heart of man desires."

"I had the feeling," said Flanders, "that I was seeing the Nazi thing all over again. He conceded, however, that Peron is much more attractive than Hitler ever was."

Flanders told how the members of the Argentine Legislature burst into applause or stood up and applauded when they got the signal. If the passage of the speech was particularly significant, they would stand up and shout "Peron! Peron!" in unison. Peron would acknowledge the demonstration by standing up and bowing.

"At least he didn't shriek at them like Hitler," Flanders remarked gratefully.

The demonstrations, according to Flanders, always started in the same corners, and the whole Legislature followed the example of a couple of key members. They acted as sort of cheer leaders without being too noticeable. The senator said he spotted "one stout lady with a satisfied smile on her face" who set the pace for the applause in her corner.

Asked if he visited with Peron, the senator from Vermont said: "I knew he had nothing to tell me that I would believe, and had nothing to tell him that would interest him."

Doubt Exists Churchill Will Be Told Anglo Attitude Has Bad Effect

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 30 — When Prime Minister Churchill of Britain visits America next month to discuss outstanding problems, the chances are nobody in official circles here will have the temerity to tell him that Britain's non-chalant and "soft" attitude toward Communist infiltration inside the British Government can only serve to stiffen the attitude of Congress when increased economic aid to Britain comes up for consideration.

For the concern of many Americans is growing that Britain is either being duped or misled at high levels and that most of her newspapers are not alert to the damage being done the alliance of western powers by Britain's negligence.

News dispatches have just told of the release from prison of Dr. Alan Nunn May, the first atom spy. He served only six years and eight months in prison, played the piano, read scientific books at will, and now goes forth free, absolutely unrepentant over his deed. He gave Russia vital samples of uranium used in making the first American atom bomb. A Congressional committee reported last year that he and three other spies advanced the Soviet atomic program by at least eighteen months. The other spies were Dr. Klaus Fuchs, another Briton, and Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Americans who will be executed at Sing Sing on January 11 unless President Truman commutes their sentence.

The treason by Dr. May, who made frequent trips during wartime to the University of Chicago's atomic laboratory, where he learned some of the atomic secrets, was exposed in connection with the disclosures about the Canadian spy ring in September, 1945. Although the British claim that when he was caught there was no way of charging him formally with treason, which is punishable with death, no signs appear that the British Government since has actually tightened up very much on security regulations. This is due in part to the success which the "Left Wing" has had in Britain in pooh-poohing the Communist menace, aided and abetted by a good deal of derision visited by American "Left-wingers" and by certain sections of the American press which also has been duped in believing there is no danger to the national safety from the Communist menace inside our government.

side our government. American editors minimizing Communist activities in the United States Government are frequently quoted in Britain to combat those Conservatives in Parliament who try to make an issue of it.

The British Government, since the May case broke in 1945, has been caught with another failure that emphasizes its laxity. Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess, who were in the British diplomatic service here, were both known to be Communists. Yet MacLean was in charge of the so-called American desk in the British Foreign Office, where he had access to all that Secretary Acheson was telling the British Government confidentially. The same time that important negotiations were being conducted with the Russian Government, and Guy Burgess was a secretary at the Far East desk of the British Foreign Office.

To this day the British have never made a clean breast of the MacLean-Burgess affair, endeavoring instead to soft-pedal it and give the impression that the two men were of bad character, anyway. But this does not clear up at all why MacLean not only held for a long time an important post in the London government but why, while he was at the British Embassy here, he was permitted to act as secretary of the combined Policy Committee—an international committee composed of representatives of Canada, Britain and the United States—concerned with atomic affairs. He had a pass, good day and night, into the offices of the Atomic Energy Commission of the United States. He was "cleared" by the British government and hence immune from American vigilance.

With all this background, Mr. Churchill is nevertheless believed to be prepared to ask that more atomic information be exchanged between Britain and the United States. Congress would have to amend the present law to give Britain more data than she now gets.

Meanwhile, Moscow is playing a brazen game. Confident that neither the British nor the American government will do anything to counteract and expose their activities, the Communists have been in London and in America to propaganda to save the Rosenbergs from the electric chair on January 11. Many innocent Americans have joined the communités.

"The Daily Worker" in London and "The Daily Worker"—in New York have carried on their first pages in recent weeks articles with big headlines urging that the movement to free the Rosenbergs be accelerated. Just why Communist newspapers in London and New York should be solicitous about two American citizens accused of espionage and not be concerned with the hundreds of other persons accused of capital crimes is so transparently a Communist government tactic that one wonders why the American government is so strangely indifferent to the campaign. It is possible that Mr. Truman really intends to commute the sentence, thus removing the death penalty for all practical purposes in America from any future acts of treason?

The purpose of punishment is to deter others—to set an example of what will happen to those who commit similar crimes.

If the furnishing of atomic information to Russia under circumstances such as have produced world tension is not to merit the severest penalty in either Britain or the United States, one need not wonder any longer why Stalin considers the western democracies so soft that he can start Korean wars and inflict casualties on American boys without fear that his agents in Britain or America will get harsher punishment than a life in jail for a few years with plenty of food to eat, lots of books to read and pianos to play. ## AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A mysterious character named Carmel Offie now enters the plot of the Lovestone communists to take political control of western Europe under the undefined but indubitable auspices of our State Department, the AF of L and the Garment Worker's Union. Offie formerly worked in the State Department. The reason for his leaving the department are not clear to me, but an official high in the bureaucracy in Washington which deals in intelligence and "security" has expressed distrust of the man's political activities.

Offie is an old friend and associate of William C. Bullitt, who was a great Russian fan for a time, cheered for recognition of the Kremlin, served as our first ambassador under the Roosevelt reign and then became disillusioned. He was subsequently accepted by our press and public as an ardent anti-Communist. I have no opinion one way or another, but in my calculations about the man I bear in mind that he married the late Louise Bryant, the widow of John Reed, the Harvard Red who was buried in the Kremlin as a hero of the Soviet revolution. Louise Bryant was regarded as a Communist.

Offie also worked for the Central Intelligence Agency, a strange spying and whispering service and goodness knows what else, which blows millions of dollars on its own whimsical and completely confidential activities, all of them overseas. Its chief is Lieutenant. Gen. Bedell Smith, who was Ike's chief of staff in the war and served three years in Russia as ambassador after the war. He also, like Bullitt, is now thoroughly convinced that the Soviet politicians are not to be trusted. It is beyond me to try to evaluate the work of the CIA, because I have little knowledge of its mysterious works. However, among a few professionals whom I have consulted, General Smith is not regarded as a qualified director of "Intelligence." The whole affair smacks of a burlesque on the dark, whispering tactics of European governments and the modern political machinations of the GPU, the Gestapo and Mussolini's clumsy flat-foot.

A friendly estimate of the CIA has it that this bureau's job is to decide what value to place upon information gathered by its agents, to put forth propaganda for its own purposes and to "coordinate" it. It clashes with the FBI in some of its functions.

The fact that Irving Brown, a professional unioneer with absolutely no qualifications or official standing in our government, is openly encouraged by Truman, Acheson and the President-to-be, General Eisenhower, in his pesterous impudence in European domestic politics has not shocked the public as sharply as I believe it should. Perhaps we are becoming shockproof. But at any rate here we do have a physically harmless New York political adventurer of no attainments whatever, beyond shooting off his mouth in blood-curdling speeches, making mischief in foreign countries with the consent and connivance of our government. Is that a free press? The man's last political declaration known to me (and I have tried without any success to interview him) was a demand for a Socialist

So They Say... Questions — Answers

Q—What is the origin of the expression "greenhorn?"

A—Deer antlers are shed each year. During growth the horn is said to be "green." The word "greenhorn" is a new, inexperienced person not capable of shifting for himself.

Q—How old is the famous London-derry Air?

A—This Irish folk tune was first heard in the County of London-derry. Reputed to be the oldest air still surviving in Western Europe, it is believed to have first been a love song.

IKE STRONGER THAN PARTY

Except to the experts, there's usually nothing more deadly than yesterday's election statistics. The official results of the November 4 presidential vote are, however, a little livelier reading.

They bring out better than did the incomplete, unofficial returns the astonishing nature of General Eisenhower's victory over Governor Stevenson.

For one thing, they demonstrate dramatically the proportions of the general's impact upon the normally Democratic South. Ike, of course, won Florida, Texas, Tennessee and Virginia, and also captured the border states of Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma. He missed taking Kentucky by 700 votes and lost South Carolina by just 15,000.

But the total vote in 16 southern and border states is perhaps the best proof of what happened. Stevenson polled 7,129,000 votes in these 16, but Eisenhower was only 134,000 behind with 6,995,000.

Of the nine states Ike lost in this group, six gave him more than 40 per cent of their vote. His vote in Georgia, 30 per cent, was the lowest he got in the South and in the country. His 35 per cent in Alabama and 39 per cent in Mississippi were his only other national showings below 40.

Having run neck and neck in his opponent's strongest territory, Ike could occasion no surprise by the general magnitude of his performance. For instance, he won 29 states with a vote of 55 per cent or better, and 14 of these 29 gave him more than 60 per cent. The other 10 he captured fell between 50 and 55 per cent.

Ike's final margins in the big population states were staggering—848,000 in New York, 700,000 in California, 500,000 in Ohio, 443,000 in Illinois. In much smaller states like Iowa and Wisconsin he buried Stevenson by more than 350,000 votes.

Pennsylvania was a striking exception. There Ike scored by a relatively modest 270,000, not in pace with his other showings. A prime reason: a strong new Democratic organization in Philadelphia, which gave Stevenson a 160,000 vote edge.

In achieving this tremendous sweep, Ike left his Republican running mates far behind. All the comparative figures aren't in yet, but in 37 states Ike ran ahead of the highest state or national Republican candidates by a net of 2,561,000 votes. The margin may be greater when all totals are added. The general outdistanced his state-mates in all but six of these 37 states.

This is the firm evidence that Eisenhower was stronger than his party, and assertions to the contrary, will be difficult to support.

Ike did not get a plurality as large as rung up by President Harding, Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt's record of 11,072,014 was far ahead of Eisenhower's 6,616,233 over Stevenson. But the general's total vote of 33,927,549 bested Roosevelt's highest vote by 6,175,952 and surpassed Wendell Willkie's record Republican showing by 11,622,794.

Eisenhower has established high-water marks that may go untouched for years. How he did it will be conversational fodder among Americans for months.

Rich iron deposits have been found in Egypt, a country whose wealth heretofore has been almost exclusively agricultural. The openings for work which the mines will create may be the solution for Egypt's great poverty, which is the main cause of its anti-European attitude. Iron may transform Egypt, just as the recent finds of oil bid fair to do to desert Arabia.

South Dakota does not think that 18-year-olds should be entrusted with the vote. By the narrow margin of 685 votes the electors rejected a constitutional amendment extending the franchise to those 18 and over, but under 21. This leaves Georgia the only state which is thus liberal to its sons who are old enough to be killed in their country's service.

After looking at some of the neckties that are offered for sale this Christmas we now understand how some modern artists make a

FERRER ON ROBESON

Paul Robeson is an artist of merit who has become so absorbed by Soviet Russia that he no longer can be regarded as American in any other category but nominal citizenship. He is at this moment the most vehement protagonist of Soviet Russia in this country and his services have been acknowledged by Joe Stalin.

Indignation against Robeson is usually expressed by patriotic Americans who have never been tempted by so-called left-wingism. Yet, no one has ever denounced Paul Robeson with such accurate pin-pointing of his unforgivable sins against his native land as Jose Ferrer, actor, who has also been attacked for some of his associations.

Ferrer's language is important because he expresses the problem of the artist who insists on freedom of expression but rejects treason. This is what Ferrer said about Robeson:

"Any American who accepts an award from the Soviet Union today does a tremendous disservice, not only to his country, but to the cause of peace throughout the world. It seems to me to be very clear that up to now the Soviet Union has discredited itself as to believability of intention and honesty of purpose.

He pretends to be their spokesman, and he is not. I do not believe that Paul Robeson has anything fundamentally in common with Ralph Bunche, Marian Anderson, Joe Louis, Dorothy Maynor, Jackie Robinson, and other Negroes who are winning the uphill battle for Negro rights.

"Nor does he have very much in common with the Negro soldiers in Korea, who are helping to fight the battle for freedom against Communist aggression and dictatorship.

"Anyone who is in the arts must have freedom of expression. As an artist I insist on this privilege for myself and for all others. In its attempts to control artistic and creative expression, Communism is indistinguishable from Fascism or any other form of dictatorship. This is all the more reason to deplore the course which Paul Robeson has chosen."

The acknowledgment of the undeniable truth that "Communism is indistinguishable from Fascism" is emotionally difficult for many of those who in the hey-day of Hitlerism were willing to accept Stalin as an alternative. Their error was that there really is no alternative to evil. It is impossible to say that Stalin is less a devil than Hitler, for both were bred by the same Hegelian sire and only differed in the method of achieving an identical end.

Even in the matter of anti-Semitism, Stalin reaches the same goals as Hitler did and for the same ends, namely, that any independence of thought or action is repugnant to him. To the very few Negroes who visit his country, Stalin can well present a facade of equality because he has no Negro population in his country, but he does have Jews in sufficient number to require him to reach a conclusion about them and his conclusion is the same as Hitler's was.

Jose Ferrer, therefore, has hit the nail on the head when he establishes the truth that when Robeson serves Stalin, he betrays not only the United States but the Negroes as well. It is a too usual, even though unjust, human trait to generalize from the particular. A handful of Negroes are Communists; therefore the illogical—and logic is perhaps the most useful and unused of mental exercises—conclude that all, or most, or a great many Negroes are Communists.

Jose Ferrer has served his country well by making the issue clear-cut and understandable. It is not the Negro in Robeson that brings him opprobrium in his native land; it is his treachery to his ideals and institutions.

As heart and blood-vessel disease is now the most frequent cause of death, not excepting cancer, research workers all over the world are now seeking a drug or drugs to reduce high blood pressure, which is the underlying cause of most cases of heart and blood-vessel disease.

The search for a drug to reduce "permanently" high blood pressure has not been successful, but now that it is known that emotional disturbances raise the blood pressure, the sale of "quieting" drugs (sedatives) outnumber the sale of purgatives.

This not only keeps up his spirits but helps all the body processes—the circulation of the blood, aids digestion, prevents constipation.

Many may think that overwork, too much tobacco or alcohol, heredity, are the chief causes of high blood pressure, and these are among the many causes, but physicians today are prescribing these quieting drugs not to keep the patient from doing physical work, but to quiet or prevent emotional disturbances. Emotional disturbances can raise the blood pressure 40 to 60 points (M.M.).

In his book, "Control High Blood Pressure and Live Longer," Dr. Herman Pomeranz, visiting physician, Manhattan General Hospital, New York City, states: "Anger, fear, excitement, worry, general nervousness or other emotional influences greatly affect blood pressure. Such feelings, whether expressed or repressed, may cause a sudden rise in pressure. These effects are brought about by increased heart action and changes in the state of the blood-vessels. High blood pressure is playing upon the heart and brain.

Another factor is that in the early history of man, with dangers all about him, Nature caused the adrenal glands, one above each kidney, to pour adrenal juice into the blood to strengthen the heart and raise his blood pressure to better enable him to fight or fly. This, of course, raised the blood pressure till danger was past. Now, everyday emotional disturbances stretch the blood-vessels too much and too often, so that some of the elastic tissue of blood-vessel is lost, they become hardened, and blood pressure remains high.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — When General Eisenhower first asked George Humphrey, head of the giant M. A. Hanna Holding Corporation, to become secretary of the treasury, Humphrey told him that he wouldn't be able to take the job for more than two years.

"Well, that's all right," replied Eisenhower, "but you wouldn't leave me in the middle of a crisis, would you?"

"No," laughed Humphrey, "I would leave before the crisis arrived."

"If you're that smart," concluded Eisenhower, "I certainly want you on my team."

Hot Maine Potato
The Ike administrationites have had a hot potato dumped in their lap in the form of contrite, humble Owen Brewster, the defeated GOP Senator from Maine, one-time vigorous opponent of Eisenhower.

Brewster, who has lived in the nation's capital for something like a quarter of a century, now doesn't want to go back to Maine. He wants to stay here and be part of the Ike administration. Specifically he wants to be assistant secretary of state.

To this end, the retiring senator from Maine has been on the phone getting the support of old friends, and has sent word to the man who defeated him, Senator-elect Fred Payne, that he, Brewster, would retire from the Senate on Dec. 31, thus giving Payne a chance to step in and get seniority ahead of other new senators—provided Payne, in turn, would endorse him to be assistant secretary of state.

Faced with this supplication from the retiring senator from Maine, the Brownell boys—who are handling Ike's jobs—dumped the hot potato into the senate's lap. In brief they told Brewster to get the support of Senator Margaret Chase Smith, whom he once tried to defeat, and Payne, who defeated him.

Durkin Was Different
This procedure was exactly the opposite of what Brownell did in the appointment of Martin Durkin

as secretary of labor. In that case, not only was Taft not consulted, but Everett Dirksen, Republican senator from Illinois, from which state Durkin comes, was not consulted.

Reason No. 1 for dumping the hot potato is that Brewster has become known as the Senate spokesman of Dictator Franco; also the spokesman of Pan American Airways; and a Senate prober actually revealed that he had been mixed up in tapping the telephone wires of Howard Hughes of Trans World Airlines on behalf of competing Pan American Airways.

Reason No. 2 for being Coy about Brewster is that he was vigorously for Taft, and is credited with attempting to smear Eisenhower as "Stalin's stooge."

This smear was first printed by the partisan Republicans of California. Later at a meeting at the home of Senator Brewster, Ralph Masterson, chairman of Maine's Republican State Committee, proposed that the smear be mailed throughout the state, with GOP state funds used for mailing it.

As a result Senator Margaret Smith went on a state-wide radio network to denounce the "Stalin's stooge" smear and vigorously defended Eisenhower.

Later also Brewster made a statement that he knew nothing about the smear; claimed he was out of the room when Masterson, during the meeting in Brewster's home, proposed that it be distributed.

All of which leads Eisenhower advisers to figure that though the state of Maine raises a lot of potatoes, this is the hottest one ever dumped in their laps.

Washington Pipeline
V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian ambassador to the UN, has been interviewed by expert newsmen, has participated in vital UN debates. But it took two college students to make headlines with his real views on the U. S. and Korea.

Helen Jean Rogers, a graduate of Catholic University and Elmer Paul Brock of La Salle College, were the two who quizzed Menon so thoroughly on Ruth Hag's junior press conference TV program that U. S. Ambassador Chester Bowles protested to the Indian Government against Menon's remarks. He stated that the United States was sabotaging the Korean peace... Menon had hoped to succeed Nehru as prime minister of India, but this should puncture that ambition... The Czechoslovak legation has just bought twelve short-wave radio sets at $480 apiece. They can tune in on Prague easily... The lobbyists are dusting off their pocketbooks and preparing to wine and dine congressmen, again. Farsighted Charlie Holman, champion of the cow, has even picked the advance date of May 7 for a dinner for congressmen aimed at curbing the oleo producers.

Argentina Fascism
Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont came back from a trip to Argentina recently with the impression that that country was becoming Nazified.

Flanders was in the Argentine Legislature when President Peron read his 5-year-plan, which in name at least, was copied after Moscow's and which the senator said "promised everything that the heart of man desires."

"I had the feeling," said Flanders, "that I was seeing the Nazi thing all over again." He conceded, however, that "Peron is much more attractive than Hitler ever was."

Flanders told how the members of the Argentine Legislature burst into applause or stood up and applauded when they got the signal. If the passage of the speech was particularly significant, they would stand up and shout "Peron! Peron! Peron!" in unison. Peron would acknowledge the demonstration by standing up and bowing.

"At last he didn't shriek at them like Hitler," Flanders remarked gratefully.

The demonstrations, according to Flanders, always started in the same corners, and the whole Legislature followed the example of a couple of key members. They acted as sort of cheer leaders without being too noticeable. The senator said he spotted "one stout lady with a satisfied smile on her face" who set the pace for the applause in her corner.

Asked if he visited with Peron, the senator from Vermont said: "I knew he had nothing to tell me that I would believe, and I had nothing to tell him that would interest him."

Doubt Exists Churchill Will Be Told Anglo Attitude Has Bad Effect

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 30 — When Prime Minister Churchill of Britain visits America next month to discuss outstanding problems, the chances are nobody in official circles here will have the temerity to tell him that Britain's non-chalant and "soft" attitude toward Communist infiltration inside the British Government can only serve to stiffen the attitude of Congress when increased economic aid to Britain comes up for consideration.

For the concern of many Americans is growing that Britain is either being duped or misled at high levels and that most of her newspapers are not alert to the damage being done the alliance of western powers by Britain's negligence.

News dispatches have just told of the release from prison of Dr. Alan Nunn May, the first atom spy. He served only six years and eight months in prison, played the piano, read scientific books at will, and now goes forth free, absolutely unrepentant over his deed. He gave Russia vital samples of uranium used in making the first American atom bomb. A Congressional committee reported last year that he and three other spies advanced the Soviet atomic program by at least eighteen months. The other spies were Dr. Klaus Fuchs, another Briton, and Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Americans who will be executed at Sing Sing on January 11 unless President Truman commutes their sentence.

The treason by Dr. May, who made frequent trips during war-time to the University of Chicago's atomic laboratory, where he learned some of the atomic secrets, was exposed in connection with the disclosures about the Canadian spy ring in September, 1945. Although the British claim that when he was caught there was no way of charging him formally with treason, which is punishable with death, no signs appear that the British Government since has actually tightened up very much on security regulations. This is due in part to the success which the "Left Wing" has had in Britain in pooh-poohing the Communist menace, aided and abetted by a good deal of deception visited upon the British people by the American "Left-wingers" and by certain sections of the American press which also has been dangled in believing there is no danger to the national safety from the Communist menace inside the British Government.

Minimizing the Communist activities in the United States Government are frequently quoted in Britain to combat those Conservatives in Parliament who try to make an issue of it.

The British Government, since the May case broke in 1951, has been caught with another failure that emphasizes its laxity. Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess, who were in the British diplomatic service here, were both known to be Communists. Yet MacLean was in charge of the so-called American desk in the British Foreign Office, where he had access to all that Secretary Acheson was telling the British Government confidentially at the same time that important negotiations were being conducted with the Russian Government, and Guy Burgess was a secretary at the Far Eastern desk of the British Foreign Office.

To this day the British have never made a clean breast of the MacLean-Burgess affair, endeavoring instead to soft-pedal it and give the impression that the two men were of bad character, anyway. But this does not clear up at all why MacLean not only held for a long time an important post in the London government but why, while he was at the British Embassy here, he was permitted to act as secretary of the combined Policy Committee—an International Committee composed of representatives of Canada, Britain and the United States—concerned with atomic affairs. He had a pass, good day and night, into the offices of the Atomic Energy Commission of the United States. He was "cleared" by the British government and hence immune from American vigilance.

With all this background, Mr. Churchill is nevertheless believed to be prepared to ask that more atomic information be exchanged between Britain and the United States. Congress would have to amend the present law to give Britain more data than she now gets.

Meanwhile, Moscow is playing a brazen game. Confident that neither the British nor the American government will do anything to counteract and expose their activities, the Communists have formed committees both in England and in America to conduct propaganda to save the Rosenbergs from the electric chair on January 11. Many innocent Americans have joined the committees.

The "Daily Worker" in London and "The Daily Worker" in New York have carried on their first pages in recent week articles with big headlines urging that the movement to free the Rosenbergs be accelerated. Just why Communist newspapers in London and New York should be solicitous about two American citizens accused of espionage and not be concerned with the hundreds of other persons accused of capital crimes is so transparently a Communist government tactic that one wonders why the American government is so strangely indifferent to the campaign. It is possible that Mr. Truman really intends to commute the sentence, thus removing the death penalty for all practical purposes in America from any future acts of treason? The purpose of punishment is to deter others from committing similar crimes.

If the furnishing of atomic information to Russia under circumstances such as have produced world tension is not to merit the severest penalty in our laws, then the United States, one need not wonder any longer why Stalin considers the western democracies so soft that he can start Korean wars and inflict casualties on American boys without fear that his agents in Britain or America will get the punishment they deserve. It is possible that Mr. Truman really intends to commute the sentence, thus removing the death penalty for all practical purposes in America from any future acts of treason? The purpose of punishment is to deter others from committing similar crimes.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A mysterious character named Carmel Offie now enters the plot of the Lovestone communists to take political control of western Europe under the undefined but indubitable auspices of our State Department, the AF of L and the Garment Worker's Union. Offie formerly worked in the State Department.

The reason for his leaving the department are not clear to me, but an official high in the bureaucracy in Washington which deals in "intelligence" and "security" has expressed distrust of the man's political activities.

Offie is an old friend and associate of William C. Bullitt, who was a great Russian fan for a time, cheered for recognition of the Kremlin, served as our first ambassador under the Roosevelt reign, and then became disillusioned. He was subsequently accepted by our press and public as an ardent anti-Communist. I have no opinion one way or another, but in my calculations about the man I bear in mind that he married the late Louise Bryant, the widow of John Reed, the Harvard Red who was buried in the Kremlin as a hero of the Soviet revolutions. Louise Bryant was regarded as a Communist.

Offie also worked for the Central Intelligence Agency, a strange spy and whispering service and goodies knows what else, which blows millions of dollars on its own whimsical and completely confidential activities, all of them overseas. Its chief is Lieut. Gen. Bedell Smith, who was Ike's chief of staff in the war and served three years in Russia as ambassador after the war. He also, like Bullitt, is now thoroughly convinced that the Soviet politicians are not to be trusted. It is beyond me to try to evaluate the work of the CIA because I have little knowledge of its mysterious works. However, among a few professionals whom I have consulted, General Smith is not regarded as a qualified director of "Intelligence."

The whole affair smacks of a burlesque of the dark, whispering tactics of European governments and the modern political machinations of the GPU, the gestapo and Mussolini's clumsy flat-feet. A friendly estimate of the CIA has it that this bureau's job is to decide what value to place upon information gathered by its agents, to put forth propaganda for its own purposes and to "coordinate." It clashes with the FBI in some of its functions.

The fact that Irving Brown, a professional unioneer with absolutely no qualifications or official standing in our government, is openly encouraged by Truman, Acheson and the President-to-be, General Eisenhower, in his pestiferous impudence in European domestic politics has not shocked the public as sharply as I believe it should. Perhaps we are becoming shockproof. But at any rate here we do have a physically harmless New York political adventurer of no attainments whatever, beyond shooting off his mouth in blood-curdling speeches, making mischief in foreign countries with the consent and connivance of our government. Is that a friendly way? The man's last political declaration known to me (and I have tried without any success to interview him) was a demand for a Socialist

Bangs Will Lead In Popularity Is Forecast for 1953

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Since this is the season for retrospect and forecast, I will join the parade and predict for 1953

That bangs will be the most popular hairdo of the year.

That a number of baby girls will be named Mamie, and lots of baby boys will be called Ike.

That just plain Americanism will become fashionable, and that parlor pinks will seem a little out of date.

That there will be a Marilyn Monroe sweater and a Rosemary Clooney bathing suit.

That an increasing number of jalopies will be decorated with the words "Little Mo" and that all feminine teen-age skaters will try to look like Barbara Ann Scott.

That Vivien Kellems will declare an armistice with Uncle Sam's income tax collectors and will become a television star.

To Set Millinery Trend

That Ovetta Culp Hobby will set the millinery trend for 1953, and that Ivy Priest will inspire several thousand college girls to major in economics.

That tiaras will be worn by 1953 debutantes, with a bow to Queen Elizabeth, though the common garden variety will be made up at home from such rhinestone and pearl necklaces as happen to be at hand.

That coronation white will be the color of the year, closely followed by Mamie blue.

That nobody can get bookings on ships to England in June, unless they have had them a year in advance, and that European travel will enjoy a record year in tourist receipts.

Women Continue in Politics

That women will continue to work in political organizations with increasing zest, having found that it is fun.

That the new girl favorites of TV will be wholesome, Betty Furness types, with modest necklines and well-modulated voices, suitable to well-bred U. S. living rooms.

That women's colleges will add some business and finance courses to their curricula, and that more women will find top-brass jobs in business.

That husbands will continue to gripe about the high cost of living, and that wives will continue to spend, but more of them will earn. That America still will be the best place in the world in which to live and enjoy it.

VISITING CITY ALONE

A mother writes me: "Will you please tell me if it would be all right for my 19-year-old daughter to spend a weekend in New York at a proper hotel and go see a play with her boy friend who is working in that city? I promised I would let her go if you said it was all right."

Party for Bride and Groom-to-Be

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married in several weeks at a small wedding. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to give a pre-wedding party at my house about a week before the wedding for his many friends who cannot be invited to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what kind of a party would be best to give.

Answer: It would be entirely proper to give a party for your son and his fiancée at any time. It could be a small dance or just a supper, or whatever you can best give in your house. The invitations would read either, "Small Dance (or Supper) for Mary and John," and the time and day.

Bride Wouldn't Tell

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it a breach of good manners to ask a bride-to-be what she and her attendants are wearing at the wedding? The other day I asked this of a friend who is soon to be married and she promptly changed the subject, completely ignoring my question. Since then I have been wondering whether I was wrong in asking.

Answer: There was no bad manners in asking this question because many brides do like to talk about their plans, but others like to keep them a secret. Evidently this bride was one of the latter and all she had to say, instead of ignoring my question, was, "I want to keep the wedding plans a surprise."

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Questions on pictures of the bride, the wedding cake, and wedding procedure are frequently asked by readers. Answers are given in Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-2, "Wedding Procedure." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

VISITING CITY ALONE

A mother writes me: "Will you please tell me if it would be all right for my 19-year-old daughter to spend a weekend in New York at a proper hotel and go see a play with her boy friend who is working in that city? I promised I would let her go if you said it was all right."

If the boy is someone you thoroughly approve of, and if she stays at one of the women's hotels, it will be entirely proper. Party for Bride and Groom-to-Be

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married in several weeks at a small wedding. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to give a pre-wedding party at my house about a week before the wedding for his many friends who cannot be invited to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what kind of a party would be best to give.

Answer: It would be entirely proper to give a party for your son and his fiancée at any time. It could be a small dance or just a supper, or whatever you can best give in your house. The invitations would read either, "Small Dance (or Supper) for Mary and John," and the time and day.

Bride Wouldn't Tell

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it a breach of good manners to ask a bride-to-be what she and her attendants are wearing at the wedding? The other day I asked this of a friend who is soon to be married and she promptly changed the subject, completely ignoring my question. Since then I have been wondering whether I was wrong in asking.

Answer: There was no bad manners in asking this question because many brides do like to talk about their plans, but others like to keep them a secret. Evidently this bride was one of the latter and all she had to say, instead of ignoring your question, was, "I want to keep the wedding plans a surprise."

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Questions on pictures of the bride, the wedding cake, and wedding procedure are frequently asked by readers. Answers are given in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-2, "Wedding Procedure." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. ## Women Continue in Politics

That women will continue to work in political organizations with increasing zest, having found that it is fun. That the new girl favorites of TV will be wholesome, Betty Furness types, with modest necklines and well-modulated voices, suitable to well-bred U. S. living rooms. That women's colleges will add some business and finance courses to their curricula, and that more women will find top-brass jobs in business. That husbands will continue to gripe about the high cost of living, and that wives will continue to spend, but more of them will earn. That America still will be the best place in the world in which to live and enjoy it.

EAT WELL for Less

New Egg nog Greet New Year

SOMETHING NEW has been added to the traditional New Year's eggnog—a cola beverage used in eggnog with or without liquor.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Here's a new eggnog—old-fashioned but with something new added.

The trick is the addition of cola carbonated beverage—and it works equally well for eggnog with liquor, or for the non-alcoholic variety.

And here's a wholesome and nourishing eggnog for the small try, too: cherry carbonated beverage plus eggs and rich evaporated milk. It's a beautiful pink color and the flavor tops any milk drink we've tasted for a long, long time.

Cola Eggnog

(12 servings)

Six eggs, separated. ½ cup sugar, 1 cup liquor (brandy, rum, whiskey or sherry. For non-alcoholic eggnog: use an additional cup of cola). 2 cups cream, 3 cups cola carbonated beverage, chilled, ½ teaspoon salt.

Beat egg yolks until light. Beat in sugar a little at a time until well blended; then, beating constantly, very slowly add the liquor and cream. Add the cola, egg whites with the salt; fold beating only once or twice. Whip about two thirds into the eggnog and float the remainder on top. Makes about 1½ quarts, or 12 servings.

Pink Cloud Nog

(10 servings)

Four eggs, few grains salt, 1/3

cup sugar, 2 tablespoons marshmallow cherry juice, 2¼ cups undiluted evaporated milk, 2 cups cherry-flavored carbonated beverage, chilled.

Separate one of the eggs; beat the white and reserve for topping. Beat the yolk with the three remaining eggs until light. Add few grains of salt and gradually beat in the sugar.

Blend in the cherry juice, evaporated milk, and add carbonated beverage, stirring once or twice only. To serve, top with the beaten egg white. Ten servings.

Note—Quantity of eggnog may be stretched by adding additional carbonated beverage; the flavor will still be very good.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed dried apricots shredded wheat, crisp bacon, rolls, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of kidney beans, tomatoes, onions and cheese, French bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, fruit cup (cubed apples and oranges), leftover cake or cookies, tea, milk.

EASY NEW YEAR'S EVE BUFFET: Large platter of assorted sandwiches—all thin bread and with crusts cut off—cream cheese and olives on white, ham on rye, white meat of chicken on white, rolled watercress on white, potato salad, ripe olives and stuffed olives, sweet pickles, assorted cheese on tray, fruit bowl, frosted devil's food cake, coffee and lots of it.

As Pegler Sees It

revolution to set up a system of Soviets in our country, supported by "workers" armed with guns. His known chief is Jay Lovestone, a communist of the deepest dye but an opponent of the Kremlin.

One agent of the CIA whispered to me that Offie was a dangerous character, but that Irving Brown was not a Lovestone communist any more and went on to say that Lovestone, himself, was still a Lovestone Communist but was employed by and responsible to Dave Dubinsky, who is a socialist opposed to communism. He said the CIA had slushed a great deal of our money secretly into the European political enterprises of Dubinsky's union and in the same conversation told me that Offie was employed by the union in New York as a political expert of some sort and that Offie was a man who needed watching.

I am aware that all this sounds crazy, but I am reporting to you the conflicting statements made in the course of a few minutes by a man who has great authority in our overseas political meddling which is being paid for by your taxes. Of course this stuff is incoherent, but there you have a glimpse of the efficiency of the CIA.

Now what are European industrialists, the people of those nations, to think of this interference by American Reds who profess to have the sole purpose of saving Europe from Soviet communism? Publications of our Mutual Security Administration, another spending agency, boast that characters of the Brown type, living in Europe better than they ever were able to support themselves at home, take pride in forcing European industrialists to pay premium wages to their workers. Then, at a glance, we see that actually, the American income-taxpayer is the one who really gets the kick in the pants because we send the money over to pay for these undertakings. The MSA, like the Marshall Plan and Paul Hoffman's squanderbund, the ECA, draws the money out of our treasury.

This is another chapter in my developing disclosure of the Brown-Lovestone-Dubinsky scheme. It is a hard story to sell to the public because it is so confused and fantastic. De Witt Wallace, of the Reader's Digest, hasn't helped much with his silly credulity in printing a piece boosting Brown as a fighting anti-communist and then trying to wiggle off the hook instead of admitting that he pulled a rook.

Opening Lead Can Decide Bridge Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"It's an old story that many hands are decided by the opening lead," writes Robert Willman, of New York city. "The accompanying hand is especially interesting, however, because the correct lead is very unusual and is limited to only one card."

"When the hand was actually played, West led the deuce of clubs, dummy threw a low diamond, and East's queen was captured by the ace. Now declarer needed only to run his sure tricks and let nature take its course."

New Eggnog Greet New Year

SOMETHING NEW has been added to the traditional New Year's eggnog—a cola beverage used in eggnog with or without liquor.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Here's a new eggnog—old-fashioned but with something new added.

The trick is the addition of cola carbonated beverage—and it works equally well for eggnog with liquor, or for the non-alcoholic variety.

And here's a wholesome and nourishing eggnog for the small fry, too: cherry carbonated beverage plus eggs and rich evaporated milk. It's a beautiful pink color and the flavor tops any milk drink we've tasted for a long, long time.

Cola Eggnog (12 servings)

Six eggs, separated, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup liquor (brandy, rum, whiskey or sherry. For non-alcoholic eggnog, use an additional cup of cola), 2 cups cream, 3 cups cola carbonated beverage, chilled, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Beat egg yolks until light. Beat in sugar a little at a time until well blended; then, beating constantly, very slowly add the liquor and cream. Add the cola egg whites with the salt; fold beating only once or twice. Whip about two thirds into the egg-nog and float the remainder on top. Makes about 1½ quarts, or 12 servings.

Pink Cloud Nog (10 servings)

Four eggs, few grains salt, 1/3

cup sugar, 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice, 2½ cups undiluted evaporated milk, 2 cups cherry-flavored carbonated beverage, chilled.

Separate one of the eggs; beat the white and reserve for topping. Beat the yolk with the three remaining eggs until light. Add few grains of salt and gradually beat in the sugar.

Blend in the cherry juice, evaporated milk, and add carbonated beverage, stirring once or twice only. To serve, top with the beaten egg white. Ten servings.

Note—Quantity of eggnog may be stretched by adding additional carbonated beverage; the flavor will still be good.

This is another chapter in my developing disclosure of the Brown-Lovestone-Dubinsky scheme. It is a hard story to sell to the public because it is so confused and fantastic. De Witt Wallace, of the Reader's Digest, hasn't helped much with his silly credulity in printing a piece boosting Brown as a fighting anti-communist and then trying to wiggle off the hook instead of admitting that he pulled a rock.

Opening Lead Can Decide Bridge Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"It's an old story that many hands are decided by the opening lead," writes Robert Willman, of New York city. "The accompanying hand is especially interesting, however, because the correct lead is very unusual and is limited to only one card."

"When the hand was actually played, West led the deuce of clubs, dummy threw a low diamond, and East's queen was captured by the ace. Now declarer needed only to run his sure tricks and let nature take its course."

"He cashed the ace of spades

Elks Club Youth Committee Honors Big Ed Weaver

Kalloch Praises Ed as Courageous Athletic Star

Points to Comeback As Cadet Athlete

An impressive array of speakers lauded Big Ed Weaver of West Point as a credit to his school, his family and the community at the "Ed Weaver Night" banquet last night at the Elks Club.

The former Kingston athletic star, who recently completed his football career with Army and is a member of the 1952-53 basketball varsity, was the guest of the Youth Activities Committee of Kingston Lodge No. 550, B.P.O.E.

Coach Sam J. Kalloch of Poughkeepsie High, the principal speaker, described Weaver as a great athlete and a young man of rare courage and ability.

He spoke in a light vein of the havoc Weaver had wreaked against Poughkeepsie basketball and football teams of the past and said that Weaver's determination to complete his career at West Point in the face of serious obstacles was something of which the community could be proud.

Local Coaches Speak
Joining Kalloch in tributes to Big Ed were Coach G. Warren Kias, Coach Willard A. Burke, N. LeVan Haver, and Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Board of Education.

Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCordie presented Weaver with a gift from the large group present and said the Elks were proud to honor a young man who had brought so much fame and honor to the City of Kingston.

In a brief acceptance speech, the West Point cadet turned his attention to the Elks Club youngsters of the Fraternal Youth League and reminded them they would have a great opportunity with their athletic coaches of the future.

"If you do what your coaches tell you," he said to the small fry, "you will benefit by it, so will your team, your school, your city and the friends that believe in you."

Obviously moved by the many stirring tributes in his behalf, Weaver concluded with:

"When a person is accepted by his friends and has the grace of wonderful parents, he is indeed well blessed."

Kalloch Supports Bowls
After reviewing Weaver's career at the Point, Coach Kalloch entertained the gathering with a hard hitting man-to-man speech on athletics and their relation to a working democracy.

He said he believed that sports was a common denominator in the smoothing working of a democracy. As an example, he cited his 1950 Poughkeepsie High School baseball team that had a player of different nationality at each position.

"This must be unprecedented and certainly remarkable," Sam observed. "There were three Catholics, three Protestants, two Jews and a Negro lad working side by side in a common cause for victory for their athletic team."

Kansas State Leads AP Basketball Poll

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—Kansas State took over first place in the Associated Press basketball poll as La Salle of Philadelphia, upset by DePaul, skidded to third. Seton Hall moved up a notch to second. The top ten generally underwent a good shaking up but there were only two new faces in the group. They belonged to Tulsa, No. 8, and Minnesota, No. 9, who moved in to oust Louisiana State and North Carolina State.

LSU was soundly thrashed by Tulsa last week, 84-38, while N. C. State took an unexpected lacing from St. John's of Brooklyn, 67-56. Minnesota beat second-ranking Illinois, 77-73.

Kansas State's chief exploit of the week was a 93-69 triumph over Oklahoma. One hundred and one sports writers and broadcasters, participating in the poll, were sufficiently impressed to move the Wildcats from fifth to first place.

With the unbeaten ranks thinning out, favoritism was widely scattered. In all, 47 teams received mention and 17 of these rated first place vote.

The voting was so distributed that Kansas State got only 11 No. 1 votes, two less than Seton Hall, and picked up its main strength in the lower brackets.

Here's how the new top ten stacks up: Kansas State, Seton Hall, La Salle, Illinois, Washington, Holy Cross, Oklahoma A & M, Tulsa, Minnesota and Western Kentucky.

Illinois fell from second to fourth as a result of its defeat by Minnesota. Washington, twice winner over St. Louis, climbed from seventh to fifth. Holy Cross dropped two notches to sixth.

Oklahoma A & M, 81-67 winner over Colorado, moved up from ninth to seventh, and Western Kentucky, idle over the holidays, clung fast to tenth.

Major Hoople Predicts Upset Victories In Bowls for Mississippi and Wisconsin

The old boy himself.

The world could learn a great lesson from that group of boys. Kalloch also took a swipe at educators who give signs of yielding to pressure against the continuation of post-season football bowl games.

"More than 85 per cent of the players and 80 per cent of the college students want them," Kalloch pointed out. "Why should the educators find them so objectionable?"

Personalities Introduced
Toastmaster Dick McCarthy introduced a bevy of local sports personalities among them District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly, Sydney Flisser, Elks secretary; Fred Davi, Andrew Murphy III, superintendent of recreation; John Weaver, father, and Joe Weaver brother, of the guest of honor; Dr. Francis E. O'Connor; William F. Edelmuth and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. Charles J. Tiano, general chairman of the banquet, made the opening remarks.

Seven members of the 1947 Kingston High School football varsity, the last Maroon team Weaver played with, were introduced, among them Vince Carpino, Mike Rienzo, Dee Titus, Douw Meyers, Joe Albany and Mort Gazlay.

A film of the 1950 West Point football season, the year Weaver started as a sophomore, was shown after the dinner.

The biggest sunspot ever recorded was estimated to cover six billion square miles in 1947.

Costly Fouls Hurt Locals In Final Minutes

Shaffer 'V' Standout; Juhl Sinks 27 Points

Harry's Angels, a YMCA powerhouse with a star-studded lineup that featured Big Andy Juhl and George Carpozis of inter-collegiate fame, last night joined the growing list of Kingston basketball casualties at the Woodstock school gym.

For the Woodstock Varsity cagers their seventh triumph in eight starts was easily their most impressive to date, a thumping 77-72 conquest.

Not only did they overcome a 9-point first quarter deficit but they outgamed the Angels in the clutch play of the last three minutes.

Two crucial fouls by "Champ" Holstein—both two shot penalties—gave the Varsity the opening it needed. Sam Wilson cashed in on two and Bill Kaufman collected one. That broke a tie in a see-saw fourth quarter and decided the contest then and there.

Lineup switches by Coach Walter an Wagenen played an important role in the Woodstock triumph. He switched Bill Kaufman from center to guard in the second half and got better protection off the boards.

Shaffer Is Standout
The game spawned William "Boo" Shaffer of Saugerties as the Woodstock standout for the first time this season. The former Saugerties High School all-round athletic whiz bucketed 16 points and it was his feeding that accounted for several points by Big Bill Kleine and Waterous.

George Carpozis' jump shots that accounted for 39 points Saturday night in the Y League clicked for 16 last night. Andy Juhl, the New Paltz State Teachers scoring star, unloaded 27 for the Angels, collected 17 in the first half but played to a standstill by Kleine after the intermission. Big Bill scored 7 in the first half and 11 after he started slugging it out with Juhl.

The Angels jumped to a 24-15 quarter lead but the doughty Varsity refused to buckle and by halftime had pulled up even at 38-38. The Angels led by two points at the head of the stretch but the score changed hands several times until the two costly fouls.

Cerasaro Bros., Y Autumn League "B" champions will invade Woodstock for the regular Friday game.

Tony DeSpirito Needs 4 More Winners To Crack 46-Year Jockey Record

Miami, Fla., Dec. 30 (AP)—Swarthy little apprentice jockey Tony De Spirito, goes after the all-time riding record today and needs only four winners to break it.

De Spirito rode four winners in seven races at Tropical Park Monday to run his score to 385, just three short of the record of 388 set 46 years ago.

He has mounts in five races of the nine-event program and may get more before post time at 1:30 p. m. (EST).

The nervy little Lawrence, Mass., rider, who celebrated his 18th birthday on Christmas Eve, is confident he can better the world record set in 1906 by Walter Miller and tied in 1950 by Joe Culmone and Willie Shoemaker.

De Spirito rode his first winner at Sunshine Park in Tampa last Jan. 22 and his score might have been higher if he hadn't been suspended on Dec. 12 for 10 days because of a riding foul.

Hot Since Christmas

He returned to the saddle Christmas Eve and set a blistering pace with three winners in eight races that day. He flew to Havana to ride on Christmas Day and scored with three more in eight attempts.

On Friday he was back at Tropical Park and drew a blank aboard eight mounts and his Saturday score was two out of seven.

De Spirito went to Havana again on Sunday when Tropical Park had no racing and won three of nine races.

Back at Tropical Park Monday, he flashed home first in four of seven to make his score 15 winners in six days.

De Spirito was a big favorite with the Monday crowd of 15,197 as he scored with Tedlin in the first, Swadelle in the second and Bangaway in the fifth.

By that time the crowd was all in his favor and it roared approval when his fourth winner came in the seventh on Big Leaguer.

The tripleheader gets underway with Miami of Ohio meeting De Paul for third place. The second game, a consolation round affair, between La Salle and New York University, is scheduled to precede the Manhattan-Utah State fray.

Manhattan earned its way into the final round by defeating Cincinnati, 75-60, on Saturday afternoon and beating De Paul, 72-64 last night.

Utah State, coming into the tourney with a 4-5 record, posted a 67-61 victory over NYU on Saturday evening and then edged Miami, 79-78, yesterday afternoon.

La Salle, last season's National Invitation winners, moved into the consolation bracket by downing Cincinnati, 85-81, yesterday afternoon. NYU gained the consolation round with a 77-63 victory over St. John's last night.

Australia Retains Davis Cup With Loss of Only One Set

Seixas and Trabert Routed in Doubles

Adelaide, Australia, Dec. 30 (AP)—America's Davis Cup debacle became complete today when Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert collapsed under the fierce pressure applied by Ken McGregor and Frank Sedgman and lost the deciding doubles match by scores of 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

The blistering defeat will go down as one of the most one-sided in Cup history. Numerous times in the past three matches in the challenge round but research fails to uncover when one side was able to win only one set in two days.

Seixas and Trabert really never had a chance against the brilliant Aussie pair today. From the moment Trabert dropped his opening service to give the Aussies a 3-0 jump it was completely obvious to the capacity crowd of over 15,000 that they were sitting in on a slaughter.

It was a disappointment to most of them, too, for they had hoped the Americans would keep the

For the second straight day McGregor played probably the most brilliant tennis of his career. He so dominated the court that there was no place for the Americans to go but out.

Elks Club Youth Committee Honors Big Ed Weaver

Points to Comeback As Cadet Athlete

An impressive array of speakers lauded Big Ed Weaver of West Point as a credit to his school, his family and the community at the "Ed Weaver Night" banquet last night at the Elks Club.

The former Kingston athletic star, who recently completed his football career with Army and is a member of the 1952-53 basketball varsity, was the guest of the Youth Activities Committee of Kingston Lodge No. 550, B.P.O.E.

Coach Sam J. Kalloch of Poughkeepsie High, the principal speaker, described Weaver as a great athlete and a young man of rare courage and ability.

He spoke in a light vein of the havoc Weaver had wreaked against Poughkeepsie basketball and football teams of the past and said that Weaver's determination to complete his career at West Point in the face of serious obstacles was something of which the community could be proud.

Local Coaches Speak
Joining Kalloch in tributes to Big Ed were Coach G. Warren Kias, Coach Willard A. Burke, N. LeVan Haver and Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Board of Education.

Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle presented Weaver with a gift from the large group present and said the Elks were proud to honor a young man who had brought so much fame and honor to the City of Kingston.

In a brief acceptance speech, the West Point cadet turned his attention to the Elks Club youngsters of the Fraternal Youth League and reminded them they would have a great opportunity with their athletic coaches of the future.

"If you do what your coaches tell you," he said to the small fry, "you will benefit by it, so will your team, your school, your city and the friends that believe in you."

Obviously moved by the many stirring tributes in his behalf, Weaver concluded with: "When a person is accepted by his friends and has the grace of wonderful parents, he is indeed well blessed."

Kalloch Supports Bowls
After reviewing Weaver's career at the Point, Coach Kalloch entertained the gathering with a hard hitting man-to-man speech on athletics and their relation to a working democracy.

He said he believed that sports was a common denominator in the smoothing working of a democracy. As an example, he cited his 1950 Poughkeepsie High School baseball team that had a player of different nationality at each position.

"This must be unprecedented and certainly remarkable," Sam observed. There were three Catholics, three Protestants, two Jews and a Negro lad working side by side in a common cause for victory for their athletic team.

Kansas State Leads AP Basketball Poll

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—Kansas State took over first place in the Associated Press basketball poll as La Salle of Philadelphia, upset by DePaul, skidded to third. Seton Hall moved up a notch to second.

The top ten generally underwent a good shaking up but there were only two new faces in the group. They belonged to Tulsa, No. 8, and Minnesota, No. 9, who moved in to out Louisiana State and North Carolina State.

LSU was soundly thrashed by Tulsa last week, 84-58, while N. C. State took an unexpected lacing from St. John's of Brooklyn, 67-56. Minnesota beat second-ranking Illinois, 77-73.

Kansas State's chief exploit of the week was a 93-69 triumph over Oklahoma. One hundred and one sports writers and broadcasters, participating in the poll, were sufficiently impressed to move the Wildcats from fifth to first place.

With the unbeaten ranks thinning out, favoritism was widely scattered. In all, 47 teams received mention and 17 of these rated first place vote.

The voting was so distributed that Kansas State got only 11 No. 1 votes, two less than Seton Hall, and picked up its main strength in the lower brackets.

Here's how the new top ten stacks up: Kansas State, Seton Hall, La Salle, Illinois, Washington, Holy Cross, Oklahoma A & M, Tulsa, Minnesota and Western Kentucky.

Illinois fell from second to fourth as a result of its defeat by Minnesota. Washington, twice winner over St. Louis, climbed from seventh to fifth. Idle Holy Cross dropped two notches to sixth.

Oklahoma A & M, 81-67 winner over Colorado, moved up from ninth to seventh and Western Kentucky, idle over the holidays, clung fast to tenth.

Har-rumph! Yes folks, that was the amazing record your forecaster compiled as he moves on to select the winners of the various Bowl games of New Year's Day.

Two upsets are predicted for the New Year games—Mississippi to defeat unbeaten and untied Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl, and Texas to nose out Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl.

These selections are being made according to Dr. Gaylord Zlobotny's Numerical Progression of Prismatic Reflexes. It's much too complicated to explain to the lay reader.

(Editor's Note: Please observe that the major duties not mentioned the Wassail Bowl—an annual affair played indoors at the Owls Club!)

And now, folks, adieu, and go ahead and paste the Bowl selections in your hat. Heh-heh!

Seven members of the 1947 Kingston High School football varsity, the last Maroon team Weaver played with, were introduced, among them Vince Carpino, Mike Rienzo, Dee Titus, Douw Meyers, Joe Albany and Mort Gazlay.

A film of the 1950 West Point football season, the year Weaver started as a sophomore, was shown after the dinner.

Costly Fouls Hurt Locals In Final Minutes

Shaffer 'V' Standout; Juhl Sinks 27 Points

Harry's Angels, a YMCA powerhouse with a star-studded lineup that featured Big Andy Juhl and George Carpozis of inter-collegiate fame, last night joined the growing list of Kingston basketball casualties at the Woodstock school gym.

For the Woodstock Varsity cagers their seventh triumph in eight starts was easily their most impressive to date, a thumping 77-72 conquest.

Not only did they overcome a 9-point first quarter deficit but they outgamed the Angels in the clutch play of the last three minutes.

Two crucial fouls by "Champ" Holstein—both two shot penalties—gave the Varsity the opening it needed. Sam Wilson cashed in on two and Bill Kaufman collected one. That broke a tie in a see-saw fourth quarter and decided the contest then and there.

Lineup switches by Coach Walter Van Wagenen played an important role in the Woodstock triumph. He switched Bill Kaufman from center to guard in the second half and got better protection off the boards.

Shaffer 'V' Standout
The game spawned William "Boo" Shaffer of Saugerties as the Woodstock standout for the first time this season. The former Saugerties High School all-round athletic whiz bucketed 16 points and it was his feeding that accounted for several points by Big Bill Kleine and Waterous.

George Carpozis's jump shots that accounted for 39 points Saturday night in the Y League clinched for 16 last season's athletic whiz bucketed 16 points and it was his feeding that accounted for several points by Big Bill Kleine and Waterous.

George Carpozis's jump shots that accounted for 39 points Saturday night in the Y League clinched for 16 last season's athletic whiz bucketed 16 points and it was his feeding that accounted for several points by Big Bill Kleine and Waterous.

Adelaide, Australia, Dec. 30 (AP)—America's Davis Cup debacle became complete today when Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert collapsed under the fierce pressure applied by Ken McGregor and Frank Sedgman and lost the deciding doubles match by scores of 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Sawyer Retires From Baseball

Philadelphia, Dec. 30 (AP)—Eddie Sawyer fired last June as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, announced today he was quitting baseball in favor of private business.

Sawyer, popular former, Ithaca, N. Y., college professor, who directed the Phillies to the 1950 National League pennant, was removed in mid-season this year as manager and given a job in the club's front office. He was succeeded by general Steve O'Neill.

His retirement from baseball after 18 years in the game in both the minor and major leagues, dispelled recurrent rumors that Sawyer would succeed Fred Haney as pilot of the Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast League. Haney recently was named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, a post for which Sawyer also had been mentioned.

"I wouldn't be interested in a minor league job," Sawyer said at his suburban home, where he is recuperating from a gripe and virus attack.

He declined to say exactly what his future plans were.

Wisconsin Coach Thinks USC Rates Rose Bowl Choice

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 30 (AP)—

The man who will guide Wisconsin into the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, Coach Ivan B. (Ivy) Williamson, said today he thinks the Trojans of Southern California rate the edge accorded them by the experts in pre-game calculations.

Southern California's coach, Jess Hill, sticks to another view. He feels this clash between the co-champions of the Big Ten and his Coast Conference titleholders is "merely even."

Williamson bases his belief mainly on the ground that "USC" has a more impressive record than we have—nine straight victories, and only one defeat, to Notre Dame.

"And," Williamson continued, "the possible absence of our left halfback, Harland Carl, makes a definite difference."

Williamson isn't quite sure, he said, what fate awaits Carl when he comes back at 2 p. m. (5 p. m. EST) Thursday for the 100,000 foot spectators and the millions of television fans around the nation.

He has definitely named alternate halfback Bill Hutchinson to lead off against the Trojans. Carl was in and out with a knee injury all season.

Joe Maurer's 678 New City Minor High; Socks 248, 213 and 217 at Bowlodrome

Joe Maurer, the City Minor League's best kneller, stepped out and proved it last night with a rousing 678 blast for a new league individual series record.

The stocky sharpshooter who has been spearheading Johnny's Drive-In march to the 1952-53 pennant knocked off successive solos of 248, 213 and 217 to shatter the old mark of 618 held by George Brown. Maurer's hefty pinning enabled Johnny to widen their lead to three games over Marnie's Barber Shop and Kingston Knitting Mills. The Drive-In pounded top team series of 2711 behind Maurer for a three-game sweep against Broadway Chop House.

Tie Among Ladies

Scoring dipped somewhat in the Woman's Major at the Bowlodrome, with Reta Frederick and Beverly Port pounding 521 each and Elizabeth Schoonmaker just a stick behind at 520.

Union Heads to Meet
New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—President George Meany says he and CIO President Walter Reuther have arranged to meet in Washington to discuss proposals to merge the two labor unions.

Meany, appearing yesterday on "The Kate Smith Hour" television program (NBC), said the negotiations will start after the New Year holiday and are sure to be "long winded."

Stockholders Reported In Favor of Suit

Utica, Dec. 30 (AP)—The Syracuse Broadcasting Company says its stockholders have approved its million-dollar restraint-of-trade suit against Publisher Samuel I. Newhouse, two newspapers he owns and a radio-TV station he controls.

The company filed affidavits in Federal District Court yesterday in reply to a defense motion asking dismissal of the suit. The Newhouse interests claimed the suit had not been approved by the directors of Syracuse Broadcasting.

The suit for $1,088,112 was filed against the Syracuse Herald-Journal, the Syracuse Post-Standard and Station WSYR and WSYR-TV, by Syracuse Broadcasting, operators of radio station WNDR.

In the papers filed yesterday, the operators of WNDR asserted the suit had been approved by stockholders Saturday.

Newhouse, a resident of New York, has termed the WNDR charges "wholly without foundation."

Judge Stephen W. Brennan has reserved decision on the dismissal action.

After licorice is extracted from the roots of the licorice plants, the residue is used to make a fire-fighting foam and insulating board for builders.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Hasbrouck Cousin
Relates Life of Famous Ancestor

Woodstock, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Louise Hasbrouck Zimm, a resident of this village for many years, and one of its most active historians, returned Christmas for a visit with her family in Lewis Hollow. With her she brought two photographs which she had taken last summer of the home and grave of Captain Elias Hasbrouck, in Lake Hill, which she had shown at a New York Historical Society.

Mrs. Zimm, a cousin of the famous Captain Elias Hasbrouck, had contributed an account of the life of the soldier-merchant who became Woodstock's first town supervisor, and ancestor of many living Woodstockers, to the 1951 Publication of the Woodstock Historical Society.

"Elias Hasbrouck," Mrs. Zimm wrote, "was born in May, 1741, according to his gravestone and was baptized in the Kingston Dutch Reformed Church June 21, 1741, youngest of eight sons of Solomon and Sarah (Van Wageningen) Hasbrouck of Springtown, near New Paltz."

In 1757, Elias was apprenticed as a merchant in Kingston with the consent of his elder brothers, Abraham and John. "By June, 1764, the apprentice was a full fledged merchant in Kingston with the usual mercantile troubles, which were intensified by the uneasy state of trade prevalent after the French-Indian War."

"Captain Elias's leading position at the beginning of the Revolution is shown by his being the third name on the Articles of Association signed by the patriots of Kingston in June, 1775. In the same month he received his commission as Captain of the Line in the Third Regiment. He recruited his own company in Ulster county and led them to Albany, where they became part of the American army under General Richard Montgomery which marched north to attack Montreal and Quebec. Captain Hasbrouck accompanied the army as far as Montreal; from this place he was summoned back and reached Ulster county by December. These facts, proved by his own letters, are not in accord with tradition, which has him at General Montgomery's side when he fell at Quebec. However, in returning, he obeyed military orders. He expected to be assigned to another regiment of the Line, but the appointment fell through. Instead, he was given the post of Captain of Scouts and Rangers guarding the northern frontiers, a militia organization. From the beginning to end of the war he was constantly employed, either in this work or in other important duties. For a time he was Quartermaster of the army guarding the Highlands; he served on court martials, in detecting spies and suppressing conspiracies; he was one of the outnumbered defenders of Kingston when it was burned by the British on October 16, 1777; and during 1778, 1779 and 1780 transported supplies for the American troops on the Hudson. From 1780 to 1784 he extended this service to supply the French troops also."

"Captain Elias' route also reached Pennsylvania, Bethlehem Ferry, Easton (Easton) Ferry, Germantown and many taverns along the old Mine Road from Kingston to Easton figure in his expense accounts with charges for entertainment for men and beasts, 'owts' (oats) and 'cyder' being principal items."

"In spite of his store having been burned by the British, he re-established himself in Kingston during the Revolution and dealt in many items."

Property Sold in 1785

"The trade could not have been very profitable, for by the spring of 1785 Elias had decided to sell his Kingston property. This consisted of his dwelling house, which probably included the store (said to be at the corner of Wall and Main streets) and a large tract of land beginning at the inn of Capt. Evert Bogardus where the

Dueloux Again Appears During Opera Quiz Show

Woodstock, Dec. 29.—Walter Ducloux, musical director for the Voice of America, who spent last summer in this village, was again as usual on the panel of experts Saturday afternoon during the radio quiz at intermission time from the Metropolitan Opera in New York. The experts were discussing the new production of Giacomo Puccini's opera La Boheme in which was being sung for the first time at Metropolitan in English. The new English text is by Howard Dietz, and the opera has been elaborately restaged by Joseph Mankiewicz, with sets by Rolf Gerard.

When asked by the panel moderator what his wish for the Metropolitan for 1953 would be, Ducloux said that his wish had come true on Dec. 27, 1952, with the presentation of the English version of La Boheme. "I have nothing but unabashed, unequivocal enthusiasm for this opera in English," Ducloux said. The moderator thanked Ducloux for his unbridled expression concerning the new production which, he said, would probably be the subject of much controversy.

It was explained that the new La Boheme is not derived from a literal translation, but is an adaptation of the story.

When the experts were asked what their pet peeves concerning opera were, Ducloux said that he thought "the greatest handicap to opera is the attitude among many musicians and audiences alike, that opera is inferior to other serious music—chamber and symphony music."

Art Notes

Woodstock, Dec. 29.—It was reported in the Miami Herald, Dec. 18, that Doris Lee and her husband, Arnold Blanch, broke into their Miami visit for a trip to Key West but would be back.

The top photo shows the Hasbrouck homestead which is believed to be the oldest house in the Woodstock township. The stone has the following inscription: "In memory of Elias Hasbrouck, who departed this life Oct. 8, 1791, aged 50 years, one month, 21 days. Also Elizabeth, the 'wid' of Elias Hasbrouck who departed this life April 10, 1807, aged 69 years, 7 months and 6 days." The photos have been shown at a meeting of the New York Historical Society.

are on view at a local Miami art gallery. Reviewed by Doris Reno in the Miami Herald, she reports that there is "a typical Henry Matton seascape. Sigmund Menkes' study of two rabbis is also typical, both in mood and manner. The Arnold Blanch on the other hand—a semi-abstract of Women Feeding Birds, is a new departure for this painter, and an interesting one. There are also works by Stuart Edie, Frederick Serger, Doris Lee, Milton Avery, Fletcher Martin, Sidney Laufman, Marion Greenwood, Lillian Folie, Anton Refregier and others."

According to Emily Genauer, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, in an article in the Sunday art section, Dec. 28, "the Ford Foundation official who issued from India the invitation to the American Federation of Arts to assemble an international exhibition which would travel through various cities of India, beginning at New Delhi on March 15, urged very strongly that the works selected should be 'very conservative,' since it is plain that the Indian public is not yet ready for very advanced modern art. We would make an unfavorable impression if we sent things that are too modern, and also give the Communist writers here an opening to do their stuff in their usual vein. I think, therefore, that such painters as Wood, Benton, Sheeler, Lucioni, Kroll, Speicher and Burchfield should be included, and that our most non-objective school should probably be limited to one painter, probably Pollock. Among other painters suggested was Yasuo Kuniyoshi. Wood, Benton, Lucioni, Kroll and Speicher did not get into the show." Other artists included were Jack Levine, Kuniyoshi and Milton Avery.

Taxpayer Group
Opposes TV Move

Albany, Dec. 30 (AP) — A private taxpayers' group said today "there is no more justification for a state-operated chain of television stations than for a state-published chain of newspapers."

The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey assailed a proposal by the Board of Regents to set up a statewide network of 10 television stations for educational purposes.

Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, state education commissioner, has said the Regents would ask the 1953 legislature for an initial appropriation of five million dollars to build and start operating the stations.

Garth A. Shoemaker, Expenditure Survey president, labeled the proposal "a grandiose plan which would require expenditure of additional millions of dollars for a further expansion of state government."

Shoemaker said "television is impractical as an instrument for schoolroom education and private stations are already doing the job of 'out-of-school' education in the fields of culture and information." He also contended "with the backing of professional spending groups," but "without authorization by the Legislature."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Hasbrouck Cousin Relates Life of Famous Ancestor

Woodstock, Dec. 29—Mrs. Louise Hasbrouck Zimm, a resident of this village for many years, and one of its most active historians, returned Christmas for a visit with her family in Lewis Hollow. With her she brought two photographs which she had taken last summer of the home and grave of Captain Elias Hasbrouck, in Lake Hill, which she had shown at a New York Historical Society.

Mrs. Zimm, a cousin of the famous Captain Elias Hasbrouck, had contributed an account of the life of the soldier-merchant who became Woodstock's first town supervisor, and ancestor of many living Woodstockers, to the 1951 Publication of the Woodstock Historical Society.

"Elias Hasbrouck," Mrs. Zimm wrote, "was born in May, 1741, according to his gravestone and was baptized in the Kingston Dutch Reformed Church June 21, 1741, youngest of eight sons of Solomon and Sarah (Van Wageningen) Hasbrouck of Springtown, near New Paltz."

In 1757, Elias was apprenticed as a merchant in Kingston with the consent of his elder brothers, Abraham and John. "By June, 1764, the apprentice was a full fledged merchant in Kingston with the usual mercantile troubles, which were intensified by the uneasy state of trade prevalent after the French-Indian War."

"Captain Elias's leading position at the beginning of the Revolution is shown by his being the third name on the Articles of Association signed by the patriots of Kingston in June, 1775. In the same month he received his commission as Captain of the Line in the Third Regiment. He recruited his own company in Ulster county and led them to Albany, where they became part of the American army under General Richard Montgomery which marched north to attack Montreal and Quebec."

Captain Hasbrouck accompanied the army as far as Montreal; from this place he was summoned back and reached Ulster county by December. These facts, proved by his own letters, are not in accord with tradition, which has him at General Montgomery's side when he fell at Quebec. However, in returning, he obeyed military orders. He expected to be assigned to another regiment of the Line, but the appointment fell through. Instead, he was given the post of Captain of Scouts and Rangers guarding the northern frontiers, a militia organization. From the beginning to end of the war he was constantly employed, either in this work or in other important duties. For time he was Quartermaster of the army guarding the Highlands; he served on court martials, in detecting spies and suppressing conspiracies; he was one of the outnumbered defenders of Kingston when it was burned by the British on October 16, 1777; and during 1778, 1779 and 1780 transported supplies for the American troops on the Hudson. From 1780 to 1784 he extended this service to supply the French troops also.

"Captain Elias' route also reached Pennsylvania, Bethlehem Ferry, Easton (Easton) Ferry, Germantown and many taverns along the old Mine Road from Kingston to Easton figure in his accounts with charges for entertainment for men and beasts, 'owts' (oats) and 'cyder' being principal items."

"In spite of his store having been burned by the British, he re-established himself in Kingston during the Revolution and dealt in many items."

Property Sold in 1785
"The trade could not have been very profitable, for by the spring of 1785 Elias had decided to sell his Kingston property. This consisted of his dwelling house, which probably included the store (said to be at the corner of Wall and Main streets) and a large tract of land beginning at the inn of Capt. Evert Bogardus where the first New York State Assembly met, in 1777, for 105 pounds. He received an offer for it from Abraham B. Bancker, clerk of the New York State Senate, in October, 1785, alluding to a previous conversation on the subject in the spring. Whether he sold at this time is uncertain, but by June, 1787, he had removed to the newly organized township of Woodstock and was elected supervisor on the first Tuesday of that month (two years and nineteen days before Washington's inauguration, not nineteen days before, as so many local histories state).

"There seems to be no doubt that he and his family resided from the first in Little Shandaken, as the Lake Hill and Wittenberg regions were then called, though Sylvester's History of Ulster County states that he lived in Woodstock village."

"As the old town of Woodstock included Shandaken, he was practically in the center of the township and the first town meetings were held there."

Died While Hunting
"Elias Hasbrouck died toward the end of his second term of office as town supervisor, October 8, 1791. Tradition says that he passed away while out hunting and was found sitting against a stump with his gun across his knees. If so, it was a fitting end for the old warrior-hunter, whose best years had been spent in dangerous service on the frontier where, at last through their own efforts, he and his brother soldiers were able to settle in peace."

"When Capt. Elias came to Woodstock he apparently owned no land except 50 acres on the Plattekill near Pacatank which was a part of the 500 acre tract granted by Robert R. Livingston, the Chancellor, in 1779 to the sufferers from the Kingston fire of 1777."

Home Still Standing
"This original homestead is still standing, a mile from the junction of the Mink Hollow road with the main highway to Phoenixia. Recent owners have covered its front with stucco but have left its original outlines and the interior woodwork almost unchanged. A story-and-a-half frame building and perhaps the most interesting old house in the township, wonderfully framed by the great hills at its back, its story is practically unknown; and only a search in records reveals that it was here the first town officers met; that here in the center of the old township, the fire light from Capt. Elias's hearth flickered on the faces of the Revolutionary veterans from far-away New England and from the nearby towns who had adopted Woodstock as their home and were shaping its destiny; that here after his death the Widow Hasbrouck kept a tavern for the entertainment of wayfarers even then pushing along the mountain trail to the west, and for the neighbors gathering there after their day's toil."

"From this home the Captain was taken on his last journey. Today, almost hidden in a briery thicket at the right of a road leading from the Mink Hollow road to the Fischer cottage, Captain Elias's gravestone leans propped against a tree at some distance from his grave, which is directly under the road. The high-shouldered marble slab, discolored with mildew and lichen, minus a lower corner, still has a legible inscription."

Ducoux Again Appears During Opera Quiz Show
Woodstock, Dec. 29—Walter Ducoux, musical director for the Voice of America, who spent last summer in this village, was again as usual on the panel of experts Saturday afternoon during the radio quiz at intermission time from the Metropolitan Opera in New York. The experts were discussing the new production of Giacomo Puccini's opera La Boheme in which was being sung for the first time at the Metropolitan in English. The new English text is by Howard Dietz, and the opera has been elaborately retitled by Joseph Rankiewicz, with sets by Rolf Gerard.

When asked by the panel moderator what his wish for the Metropolitan for 1953 would be, Ducoux said that his wish had come true on Dec. 27, 1952, with the presentation of the English version of La Boheme. "I have nothing but unabashed, unequivocal enthusiasm for this opera in English," Ducoux said. "The moderator thanked Ducoux for his unbridled expression concerning the new production which, he said, would probably be the subject of much controversy."

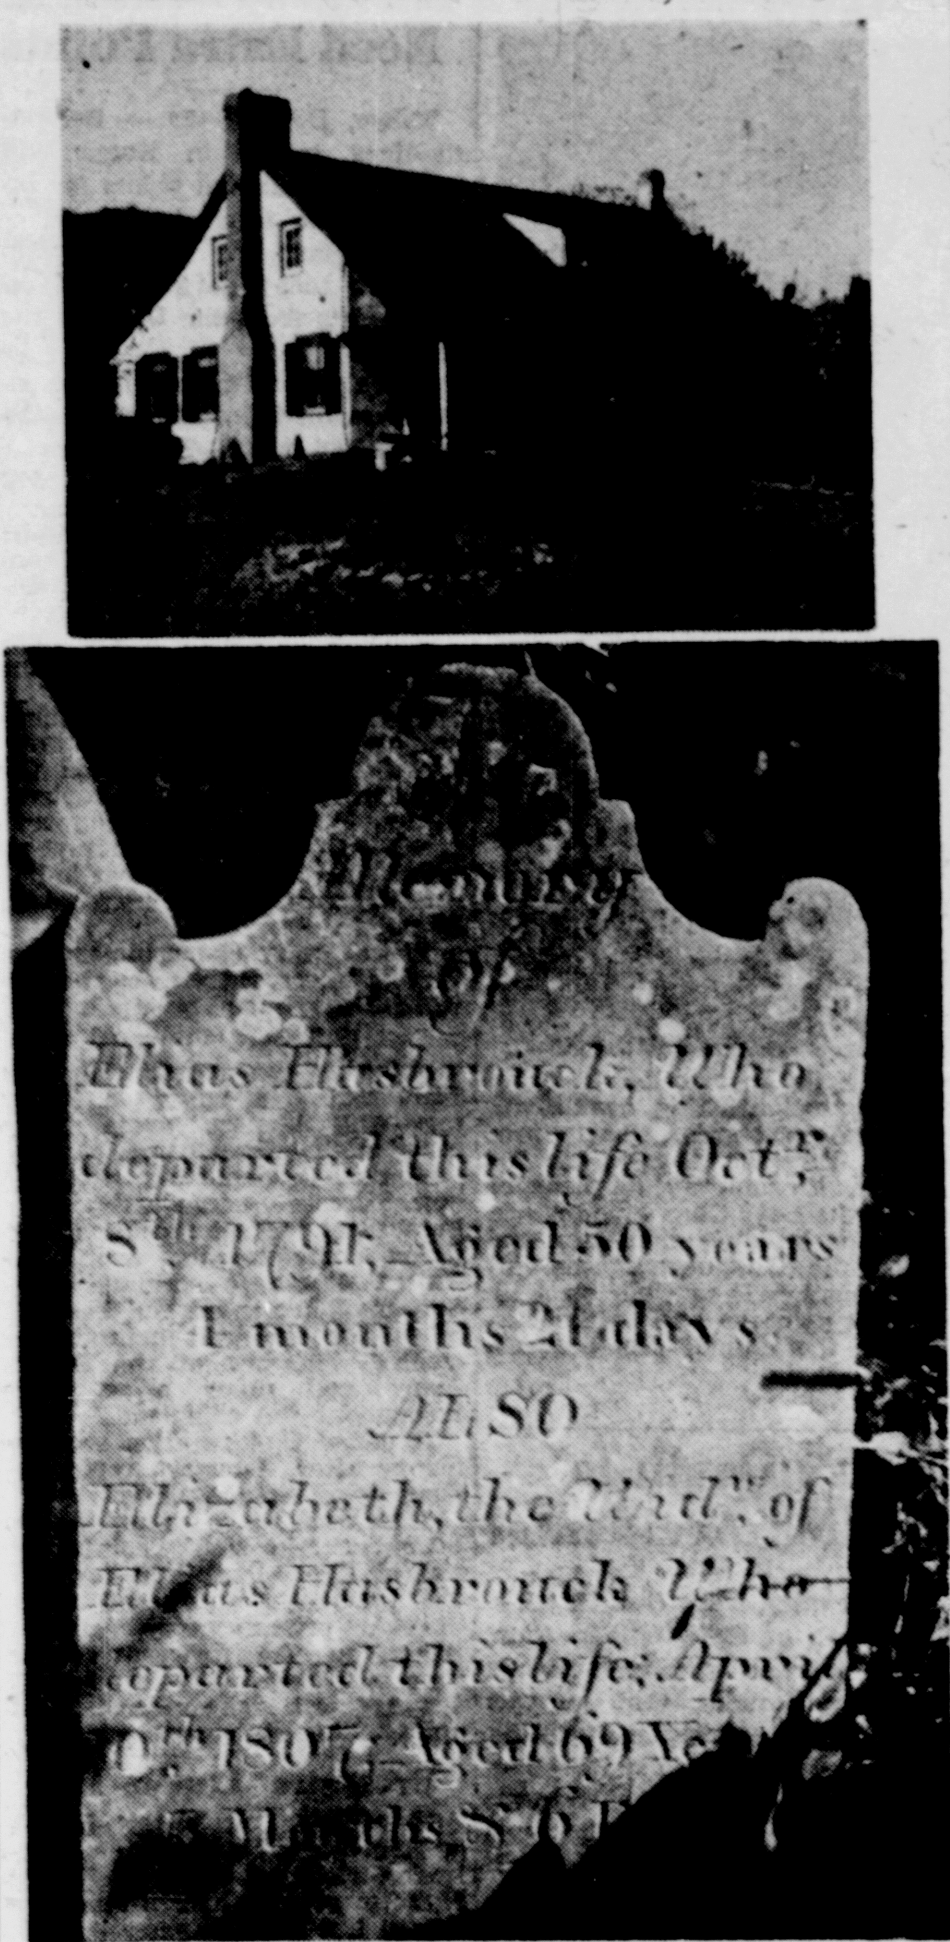

It was explained that the new La Boheme is not derived from a literal translation, but is an adaptation of the story. When the experts were asked what their pet peeves concerning opera were, Ducoux said that he thought "the greatest handicap to opera is the attitude among many musicians and audiences alike, that opera is inferior to other serious music—chamber and symphony music."

Art Notes

Woodstock, Dec. 29—It was reported in the Miami Herald, Dec. 18, that Doris Lee and her husband, Arnold B. Bland, broke into their Miami visit for a trip to Key West but would be back.

Elias Hasbrouck Home, Grave

These are two photographs taken by Mrs. Louise Hasbrouck Zimm last summer at the home and grave of Captain Elias Hasbrouck in Lake Hill. The top photo shows the Hasbrouck homestead which is believed to be the oldest house in the Woodstock township. The stone has the following inscription: "In memory of Elias Hasbrouck, who departed this life Oct. 8, 1791, aged 50 years, one month, 21 days. Also Elizabeth, the 'wid' of Elias Hasbrouck who departed this life, April 10, 1807, aged 69 years, 7 months and 6 days." The photos have been shown at a meeting of the New York Historical Society.

are on view at a local Miami art gallery. Reviewed by Doris Reno in the Miami Herald, she reports that there is "a typical Henry Mattson seascape. Sigmond Menkes' study of two rabbis is also typical, both in mood and manner. The Arnold Blanch on the other hand—a semi-abstract of Women Feeding Birds, is a new departure for this painter, and an interesting one. There are also works by Stuart Edie, Frederick Seeger, Doris Lee, Milton Avery, Fletcher Martin, Sidney Lauman, Marion Greenwood, Lillian Fiolie, Anton Refregier and others."

According to Emily Genuer, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, in an article in the Sunday art section, Dec. 28, "the Ford Foundation official who issued from India the invitation to the American Federation of Arts to assemble an international exhibition which would travel through various cities of India, beginning at New Delhi on March 15, urged very strongly that the works selected should be 'very conservative,' since it is plain that the Indian public is not yet ready for very advanced modern art. We would make an unfavorable impression if we sent things that are too modern, and also give the Communist writers here an opening to do their stuff in their usual vein. I think, therefore, that such painters as Wood, Benton, Sheeler, Lucioni, Kroll, Speicher and Burchfield should be included, and that our most non-objective school should probably be limited to one painter, probably Pollock. Among other painters suggested was Yasuo Kuniyoshi. Wood, Benton, Lucioni, Kroll and Speicher did not get into the show." Other artists included were Jack Levine, Kuniyoshi and Milton Avery.

Taxpayer Group Opposes TV Move

Albany, Dec. 30 (AP) — A private taxpayers' group said today "there is no more justification for a state-operated chain of television stations than for a state-published chain of newspapers."

The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey assailed a proposal by the Board of Regents to set up a statewide network of 10 television stations for educational purposes.

Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, state education commissioner, has said the Regents would ask the 1953 legislature for an initial appropriation of five million dollars to build and start operating the stations.

Garth A. Shoemaker, Expenditure Survey president, labeled the proposal "a grandiose plan which would require expenditure of additional millions of dollars for a further expansion of state government."

Shoemaker said "television is impractical as an instrument for schoolroom education and private stations are already doing the job of 'out-of-school' education in the fields of culture and information." He also contended the Regents' plan was sponsored "with the backing of professional spending groups," but "without authorization by the Legislature."

The 1952 Legislature created a temporary state commission that now is studying the feasibility of a state-owned TV network.

The ancient Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians began their year with the autumnal equinox (Sept. 21).

Temperatures Are Seasonal

(By The Associated Press)

There were a few wet spots and temperatures were around seasonal levels over most of the country today. Light rain continued falling over the coasts of Oregon, Washington and northern California. Another belt of rain extended from southern Texas along the Gulf of Louisiana and southern Mississippi. The only other precipitation area was the upper Great Lakes region where light snow fell in northern areas and light rain and snow in southern lower Michigan. Temperatures varied early today from below zero readings in parts of the upper Mississippi Valley to the 60's in Florida and extreme southern Texas. Miami reported 70 above early this morning. It was -1 in Grand Forks, N. D.

Safety Tape Should Not Be Applied in Cold, Is Warning

Reflector safety tape can now be purchased at a number of Kingston service stations, it was announced today by Marvin Milens, chairman of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce Life a Bumper campaign.

Demand for the reflective tape "has far exceeded our original estimate," he said, pointing out that it was now hoped to be able to "accommodate the many motorists who have been unable to obtain the safety tape."

Charles Jones, president of the local Jaycee chapter, reminded motorists of the "tremendous safety value in using this reflective tape during the winter months."

Milens cautioned motorists not to apply the tape in temperatures below 40 degrees, since it will not adhere to a surface. He suggested the utilization of heated garages.

The following service stations now have the tape: Jack's Sunoco Station and Hank Weber's Gulf Station, both on North Front street; Cassa's Texaco Station, Van Deusen and Broadway; Epstein's Gulf Station, St. James and Broadway; Lenihan's Gas Station, Hoffman and Broadway; Bob Perry's Station, Broadway; Short's Service Station, Foxhall and O'Neil street; Emerick's Service Station, Foxhall and Ten Broeck avenues; and Boulevard Gulf, Boulevard and Fair street. There is also a supply at the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Ensign Requests Acknowledgment Of Seal Sale Letters

In an appeal today for acknowledgments of the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale letters, Harry S. Ensign, president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, stressed that it is not too late to make returns.

The 1952 Christmas Seal Sale was conducted by the association in the county beginning November 17. The association hopes to realize $24,000, the minimum needed for its tuberculosis control projects through 1953. So far, according to President Ensign, proceeds total $22,958.25.

"We have had many inquiries about whether Christmas Seals returns were still being accepted and I want to emphasize that they are not only acceptable but welcome," Ensign said. "In fact, we are counting on those late returns to reach minimum financial needs so that the association will be assured of making its 1953 tuberculosis control program in this area the most effective in its history. Various projects to be included in the 1953 program are promotion, organization and publicity in the chest X-ray surveys, work with the patients service committee as well as in the mental health program.

"In the name of the association I wish to thank all Ulster county residents who have already made their Christmas Seals returns," Ensign added. "I am confident that those who have forgotten or overlooked the Christmas Seals letter will acknowledge them in the very near future."

Marines Will Help Boys Club Again

Feeling that its donation of $365 last year was well spent by the Kingston Boys Club, a percentage of the January 24 ball will be given to the same institution by Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, according to Commandant Peter Mancuso, left, and T/S Charles Awkerman, local recruiter for the U. S. Marine Corps, watching Don Van Buren using a striking bag under supervision of Nick Cosmos, director of the club. Commandant Mancuso said, "We feel that the Kingston Boys Club is a great asset to the community because it serves the growing generation regardless of race, creed or color. The diversified program serves the needs of all boys, with its instruction in table tennis, boxing, wrestling, weightlifting, basketball, baseball, woodwork, handicraft and a library program." Complimenting Director Cosmo on his work, Commandant Mancuso said, "It is a pleasure for the marines to help the Boys Club which is one of our local agencies for building character and cutting the rate of juvenile delinquency." The ball will be held in the Kingston Elks Club on Fair street, which donates its spacious hall to the Marine Corps League for the annual social event. (Freeman photo)

Woodstock Group Gives Statement

Woodstock, Dec. 30.—The Board of Trustees of the Woodstock Library, knowing that there has been a great deal of misunderstanding over the coming retirement of the librarian Mrs. Alice P. Thompson, today made the following statement:

"The Board of Trustees met on Monday, Dec. 29, and voted that: 'Mrs. Thompson become Librarian Emeritus on January 1, 1954.'

"2.—That she be granted Honorary life membership in the library.

"3.—That a substantial retirement gift be made to her at that time, the amount to be determined at the December budget meeting.

"4.—Suggested that friends of Mrs. Thompson raise a separate severance fund, to which the individual members of the board will be happy to contribute.

"The resolution presented to the Board at a recent meeting of the Trustees and some members, which contained other proposals for the librarian's future security, was rejected as being financially unsound for the library."

After the considering of petitions calling for a members' meeting, the following statement from Mrs. Thompson was read:

"I deplore the ill feeling which has been aroused by the continued public discussion of the plans for my retirement in January, 1954.

"In the interest of the library, I ask that no general members' meeting be called because of this situation before June, since I believe that before then the Trustees and I will have resolved any remaining differences about the proposed arrangements."

Government Aide

Kelly testified, an effort was made to block it. He said he was told Atty. Gen. McGranery sought a delay. There was no comment from McGranery.

Kelly said he was informed by Cohn that "Acheson didn't want the presentment made" because it recommended that a new jury be set up to continue the investigation of Red infiltration of the UN.

Another juror, Zimmerman, said he was convinced "the State Department had a big stake in this investigation . . . It wanted to hush it up because we weren't very complimentary to the State Department."

All the witnesses, in response to questions by Keating, said they believed a new grand jury, with the cooperation of the Justice and State Departments, could go far in ridding the UN of "employees with the Communist taint."

Troops in Korea Need Extra Points

Tokyo, Dec. 30 (AP)—Behind-the-lines troops in Korea will need two additional points for rotation home after Jan. 1.

Gen. Mark W. Clark's headquarters today gave lack of replacements from the U. S. as the reason.

There was no change in the rotation requirement of nine months service—36 points—for soldiers at the front. Rear area troops will need 40 instead of 38 points.

Troops at the front get four rotation points a month. Those near the front get three and soldiers far to the rear get two.

Soldiers in Japan whose families are with them one point monthly. Others get 1½.

Clark, Far Eastern commander, and Washington have disagreed in recent months on the problem of adequate replacements. Pentagon pressure forced Clark on Oct. 22 to withdraw an order increasing the battle-line rotation requirement from 36 to 38 points.

There was no comment on Clark's latest order from the Defense Department or the army.

Call Goes Upward

Saturday the army's February draft call was upped to 53,000 men—the highest quota since early in the Korean war.

Clark's headquarters said the new increase "is made necessary because of lack of receipt of sufficient replacements from the United States to continue rotation in January on the basis of 38 (points) and still maintain the combat efficiency of the Eighth Army and other army units throughout the command."

It added that rotation requirements after January would depend upon replacements.

"The decision to retain the rotation criteria at 36 (points) for zone A (front line) is in line with the previously announced policy of giving primary consideration to troops in the forward combat zone who are daily exposed to the greatest dangers and hardships," the statement added.

Pilot's Death Is Called Accidental

Sweetwater, Tex., Dec. 30 (AP)—The death of Ollie William Cox, young rancher who told friends by aircraft radio, that he was going to plunge his plane into the ground—and then did it—has been listed officially as an accident.

A complete report on the crash and death of the wealthy 23-year-old rancher will be made by Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Safety investigations. When the report will be made has not been announced.

Justice of the Peace M. C. Manroe, however, yesterday returned a verdict of accidental plane crash as the cause of death.

The youth's father agreed. "The boy didn't intend to kill himself," Fort Stockton, Tex., rancher Ollie Cox said. "He was just kidding his friends and lost control of the plane."

Manroe said, "how do we know that the man didn't change his mind 10 seconds before he hit the ground?"

"How do we know he didn't black out?" the justice of the peace asked.

Pleaded Three Hours

After friends had pleaded with him for three hours Sunday morning, Cox picked out a gravel pit near here as a target and dived from an altitude of 6,800 feet.

"I'll meet you at the gravel pit," he told the pleading friends by radio.

Minutes before his five-place plane plowed into mesquite-studded terrain he had said, "If you had done what I did, what would you do? You wouldn't land." At intervals he could be heard sobbing.

Minutes later, the bright yellow plane crashed before the eyes of a few horrified watchers.

Young Cox will be buried tomorrow (2 p. m. CST) on the Double-Heart Ranch he owned with his father.

Plant officials said output was 28 per cent above last year. Director General Heinz Nordhoff recently disclosed plans to invade the far eastern market with the small

Temperatures Are Seasonal

(By The Associated Press)
There were a few wet spots and temperatures were around seasonal levels over most of the country today. Light rain continued falling over the coasts of Oregon, Washington and northern California. Another belt of rain extended from southern Texas along the Gulf of Louisiana and southern Mississippi. The only other precipitation area was the upper Great Lakes region where light snow fell in northern areas and light rain and snow in southern lower Michigan. Temperatures varied early today from below zero readings in parts of the upper Mississippi Valley to the 60's in Florida and extreme southern Texas. Miami reported 70 above early this morning. It was -1 in Grand Forks, N. D.

Safety Tape Should Not Be Applied in Cold, Is Warning

Reflector safety tape can now be purchased at a number of Kingston service stations, it was announced today by Marvin Milens, chairman of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce Lite A Bumper campaign.
Demand for the reflective tape "has far exceeded our original estimate," he said, pointing out that it was now hoped to be able to "accommodate the many motorists who have been unable to obtain the safety tape."
Charles Jones, president of the local Jaycee chapter, reminded motorists of the "tremendous safety value in using this reflective tape during the winter months."
Milens cautioned motorists not to apply the tape in temperatures below 40 degrees, since it will not adhere to a surface. He suggested the utilization of heated garages.

Ensign Requests Acknowledgment Of Seal Sale Letters

In an appeal today for acknowledgments of the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale letters, Harry S. Ensign, president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, stressed that it is not too late to make returns.

The 1952 Christmas Seal Sale was conducted by the association in the county beginning November 17. The association hopes to realize $24,000, the minimum needed for its tuberculosis control projects through 1953. So far, according to President Ensign, proceeds total $22,958.25.

"We have had many inquiries about whether Christmas Seal returns were still being accepted and I want to emphasize that they are not only acceptable but welcome," Ensign said. "In fact, we are counting on those late returns to reach minimum financial needs so that the association will be assured of making its 1953 tuberculosis control program in this area the most effective in its history. Various projects to be included in the 1953 program are promotion, organization and publicity in the chest X-ray surveys, work with the patients service committee as well as in the mental health program."

"In the name of the association I wish to thank all Ulster county residents who have already made their Christmas Seal returns," Ensign added. "I am confident that those who have forgotten or overlooked the Christmas Seal letter will acknowledge them in the very near future."

Eniwetok Blast

of the A-bomb at the split-second of explosion the temperature may be something in excess of 20 million degrees.

In this unearthly heat and pressure is the key to producing the melting or fusion of two hydrogen atoms—one deuterium, one tritium—to produce the element for energy and explosion.

The business of producing the ingredients for nuclear fission or fusion weapons is extremely expensive.

The government has never stated officially the cost of standard atomic bombs. The original yardstick of two billion dollars for the first atomic bomb figured in the cost of development, building the big plants to process uranium ore and other factors.

Speculation that a hydrogen bomb could be "a thousand times" more powerful than an A-bomb has produced argument about the need for such super-size explosions. Because thinking presently is oriented to the possibility of war with Russia, the bombs are measured by some in relation to the size of targets in Russia and in the United States. One school of thought holds that in an H-bomb war, Russia would have the advantage because there are many more and bigger cities in the United States than in Russia.

Not for Use Against Cities

The coldly practical exponent of strategic warfare doesn't buy this idea. He doesn't think cities, as such, are logical targets. He wants (and this is the basis for the theory of retaliatory bombing of Russia if she starts war) to hit and destroy the enemy's war-making sources. He contends that those sources are airfields from which long-range bombing attacks could be launched against the United States.

Complexes dispersed over perhaps a hundred square miles of countryside; large and widely dispersed parking areas for bombers or fighters or tanks.

These are targets too big even for the atomic bomb. It would take several atomic bombs to destroy factories scattered over a hundred square mile area. A single H-bomb could do the same job.

How many atomic bombs do the United States and Russia now have?

The official secrecy about the total of U. S. bombs is as deep as that of the Kremlin about Soviet weapons. It could be five hundred or a thousand or several thousand.

While primary attention is going to nuclear explosives, the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and the Pentagon also are pioneering in the harnessing of atomic energy as power-producing sources.

The navy has two submarine hulls under construction which will be equipped with nuclear engines. The air force, meanwhile, is working at the longer range and more difficult project of trying to adapt atomic power to plane propulsion. The weight and size of reactors creates greater obstacles than for similar installations in submarines or ships. Target date for a successful atomic-powered aircraft still appears some years distant.
